'More Research' Is Needed for Gambling Plan

CENTRAL CITY (UPI) — The City Council here has decided not to give initial consideration to a gambling proposal for at least four weeks.

The council was originally set to consider the proposal to legalize betting Wednesday night.

Mayer George Ramstetter said proponents of the ordinance were doing "more research." He said the measure might be ready for first reading consideration at the Oct. 3 council meeting.

George Norman, a Golden, Colo. businessman, plans to build a $3.5 million hotel-casino if the ordinance is approved. Norman's attorney, Marshal Quat, contends Central City has the power to control gambling under its 1964 charter from the Territorial Legislature.

Ringleader Of Assassins Is Arrested

PARIS (UPI) — French police have arrested the ringleader of the terrorist commandos who attempted to assassinate President Charles de Gaulle Aug. 22, Minister of Interior Roger Frey announced today.

Frey identified him to a crowded news conference at the ministry of interior as Lieut. Alain Rougier de la Tocnaye, alias Jean-Louis Vuillier. Another alias he used was "Max," Frey said.

Police also have arrested De la Tocnaye's chief aide, a man named Prevost, who also used the name of Bregonville, Frey told newsmen.

Frey announced that 11 terrorist (Turn to Page 6, Column 6)

CHILD SURVIVES PLANE CRASH — Six-year-old Julie Clark is lifted to a stretcher at San Bernardino by Air Force Sgt. Daniel Ball as she and her sister, Laurie, 8, were brought from the scene of a mountain plane crash which killed the children's parents. The girls had spent three days beside the wreckage and the bodies of their parents before search planes spotted them.

Two Little Girls Survive Three Days In Wilderness Following Plane Crash

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—On a pineclad mountain slope two little girls, one with an agonizing leg fracture, kept a days-long vigil near the bodies of their parents killed in an air crash.

Leaning against a tree trunk was the wreckage of their light plane, its tail in the air, its nose crumpled against the ground.

Inside the plane's cabin, the strapped-in seat, was the crushed body of the girls' mother.

Outside, a few feet away, lay another body—their father.

Through three bone-chilling nights and three sun-scorched days, without food, without water, the girls stayed by the wreckage waiting for one of the many search planes they saw overhead to spot them.

At mid-morning Thursday help came.

Thursday night, in a bed at St. Bernadine Hospital, 6-year-old Julie Clark told her story.

"The plane went down real fast," she began. "Mommy and daddy didn't have a chance to say anything."

At Julie's side was her grandmother, Mrs. Scott King. Softly, with tears welling in her eyes, Mrs. King stroked Julie's blonde head, carefully avoiding the big black bruise near one eye.

Her tears were not so much for Julie as for her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Clark, who died on the mountain side, and for Julie's 8-year-old sister Laurie. Julie was suffering only from bumps, bruises and exposure.

William Clark was vice-president of Travelodge Motels Inc. Both he and his wife Jacqueline, daughter of the corporation's president, were 32 years of age.

Laurie, in another section of the hospital, was undergoing three hours of surgery to set a protruding bone in her left thigh.

"When the plane hit," Julie continued in the simple, direct way children have, "daddy and Laurie and me was thrown out. Mommy stayed in the plane."

Julie previously had said she knew her parents were dead because "they didn't move."

She said she helped Laurie sit up against a log.

"She was crying because her leg hurt. But after a while she quit crying."

"Laurie said I should go over to the plane and try and find some water. I looked all over because we always carried water, but I couldn't find any. I couldn't find any food either."

"Then Laurie told me to look for something for us to keep warm with. I went back to the plane and found a suitcase. Mommy and daddy's clothes were in it. We put them on and huddled together to keep warm. We didn't get cold."

"Later Laurie said I should go up over the hill to get help. I got halfway up and got scared so I ran back. I didn't get scared again though."

Julie didn't know it but the youngsters were only 300 yards from a backwoods road above the wreckage. They could not see the road through the dense pines. Motorists on the road could not see them.

Julie told of watching search planes fly over the gully in which they crashed.

"But no one seemed to know we were there. When the helicopters came, Laurie said they would find us because they could land anywhere."

It was a helicopter, carrying pilot Don Landels and the girls' grandfather, Scott King, president of Travelodge Motels Inc., that first spotted the wreckage among towering pines at the 7,000-foot level. Landels radioed ground parties, then, fearing for the emotional state of his passenger, flew King to nearby Big Bear Airport.

He arrived back at the crash scene as the ground party reached there.

Landels said Julie got up from (Turn to Page 6, Column 5)

Rancher, Son Are Killed by Poisonous Fumes

FORT LUPTON, Colo. (UPI)—Poisonous fumes from a septic tank killed a Fort Lupton area rancher and his 17-year-old son on their ranch about three miles southwest of here Thursday night.

Authorities said the youth was lowered into the 13-foot deep tank to make repairs. When he was overcome by the fumes, his father entered the tank to rescue him.

The victims were identified as Raymond L. Hixon, 50, and Leslie, 17. The Hixon family had moved to the ranch last April from Denver, where Hixon had been a city bus driver.

Weld County Deputy Coroner Charles Lundien said attempts by Fort Lupton firemen to revive the father and son were futile. John Schneider, one of the firemen, was overcome by the fumes while attempting to rescue Hixon and his son.

He was at Brighton Community Hospital today in fair condition.

Hixon and his son were found unconscious by other members of the Hixon family. Firemen were called by Hixon's wife, Eileen, at about 8 p.m.

Other members of the family are Rose Marie, 11, Cheryl Kay, 7, and Raymond, 3.

Lundien said Leslie Hixon went into the tank first to see if he could repair a leak. When the youth became unconscious, the father, in an attempt to save his son, went into the tank. He too, was overcome.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed this morning.

Oribiting Space Fighter to Take Off Like Plane

LONDON (UPI)—Britain reportedly is testing models of an 18,000-mile-an-hour "space fighter" that takes off like any normal plane but can zoom into orbit and back again, it was revealed Thursday.

Minister of Aviation Julian Amery told a London audience on Wednesday night that the ministry is studying an "aerospace plane" that could be operated either in the atmosphere or in space.

Amery gave no other details, but London newspapers reported Thursday that Dr. Barnes Wallis, the British inventor of the "bomb" designed the "space fighter" which could be operational by 1970.

Models of the plane have been tested successfully in a wind tunnel at the Royal Aircraft Establishment near Bedford, the papers said.

British Officials Embarrassed Over Soblen's Pills

LONDON (AP)—Embarrassed British officials sought today to find out how Dr. Robert A. Soblen hid and took the knockout dose that fouled the latest attempt to deport him to the United States.

The bail-jumping psychiatrist was still unconscious in Hillingdon Hospital, near London Airport.

A hospital spokesman reported "There is no change in Dr. Soblen's condition. He is still unconscious."

Two security guards kept close watch over the fugitive as he lay in his drug-induced sleep.

The Home Office said Thursday Soblen, 61, would remain in the hospital at least 24 hours to recover from the overdose of barbiturates.

"We can't therefore make any new arrangements for his transport until we know when he is going to be released," a spokesman said.

Soblen became ill Thursday morning as an ambulance was taking him to board a Pan American airliner for New York and a life sentence as a wartime spy for the Soviet Union. Nearing the airport he fell into a coma and his more of a social democrat, along with the European lines.

The Senate group is trying to determine whether influence in government circles helped Soblen build his boom-to-bust empire on government cotton and grain programs.

Thursday Soblen's lawyer, John Dennison, testified he had a long distance telephone call with Rep. J. T. Rutherford, D-Tex., the day after Soblen was arrested.

He said he discussed the case with Rutherford—"it was the biggest news item in town"—but had not realized their conversation lasted 51 minutes.

"We had quite a lot to talk about," said Dennison.

Dennison told about the telephone conversation after Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., advised him that telephone record showed 16 (Turn to Page 6, Column 8)

Leftist Algerian Chieftain Faces New Army Threat

ALGIERS (AP)—Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella and his political bureau faced the threat of harassment from a new quarter today—the militant commander of the new nation's 45,000-man regular army.

After a five-day, vest-pocket civil war, rebellious guerrillas in control of Algiers and central Algeria recognized the authority of the political bureau as Algeria's temporary government Thursday.

Ben Bella in turn put a brake on the regular army, which had ignored Tuesday's cease-fire agreement and tried to continue its advance to Algiers.

Col. Houari Boumedienne, chief of staff of the regular army, reluctantly agreed to observe the cease-fire but bitterly protested two major points in the cease-fire agreement.

One clause that aroused Boumedienne's ire called for both the guerrillas and the regular army to stay clear of Algiers until after the legislative elections, which the political bureau Thursday scheduled for Sept. 16.

Boumedienne was even more incensed by Ben Bella's agreement to postpone merging the rebellious guerrillas of Wilayas (zones) Nos. 2 and 4 into the army under Boumedienne's control. The country's four other Wilayas have all been under the control of the command.

A meeting between Boumedienne and Ben Bella near Orleansville Thursday was described by one Algerian official as acrimonious. Although the colonel and his general staff had vigorously supported Ben Bella's drive for power, observers anticipated that friction between them would increase in the future.

The lean, ascetic Boumedienne was accused by Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda at the end of June of plotting to set up a military dictatorship. Ben Khedda fired Boumedienne and his general staff, but the army remained loyal to its leaders. Boumedienne joined forces with Ben Bella to ouster Ben Khedda's short-lived government, then broke the back of the guerrilla's rebellion against the political bureau.

Although both men espouse socialism, Boumedienne differs with Ben Bella on the means to that end. Ben Bella has said he is a social democrat, along with the European lines.

Republicans Urge Military Force To Stop Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate House Republican leadership called for congressional action to authorize President Kennedy to use troops if necessary to meet the threat of the Communist military buildup in Cuba.

Republican spokesmen said Congress, before adjournment, should adopt a resolution to give bipartisan backing and authority for Kennedy to take whatever steps he deems necessary, including the (Turn to Page 6, Column 9)

This legislation would place a ceiling of 150,000 men from the Reserves of all the armed forces to limit the period of service to no more than 12 months.

Kennedy could exercise the authority from the time Congress adjourns until next Feb. 28, about two months after the Senate and House reconvene.

During that time, the secretary of Defense could extend the terms of service of the Reservists for not more than 12 months.

No member of the Ready Reserve called to duty involuntarily at the height of the Berlin crisis in 1961 could be called back again unless he volunteers.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy was asking the new authority to order Reservists to duty "because of the critical nature of the international situation."

Salinger said he was referring to the "general international situation."

Asked if the move was inspired particularly by the Soviet-backed buildup of armed strength in Castro Cuba, he said newsmen would have to draw their own conclusions.

The press secretary did say the plan was discussed with leaders of both parties in Congress when they assembled at the White House late Tuesday to be filled in on the situation in Cuba and the statement Kennedy issued that evening.

At that time, Kennedy told of Soviet shipments of missiles, motor torpedo boats, and other military equipment to Cuba, and told both Moscow and Havana the (Turn to Page 6, Column 8)

308 Bankruptcy Petitions Are Filed in Month

DENVER (UPI)—A new monthly high of 308 bankruptcy petitions were filed in U.S. District Court here in August, bettering the old record set in March of last year when 290 petitions were filed.

Chief U.S. bankruptcy referee for the state, Benjamin Hilliard Jr., said he and two other referees disposed of 182 cases, leaving a total of 2,296 cases pending.

The countries approached on the "charter question" included Greece, Norway, Britain and West Germany. These are said to be the NATO nations whose vessels most frequently are chartered to Russia.

Beauty Princesses Look Forward to Contest Finals

By DORMAN CORDELL
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The nation's beauty princesses were looking ahead today to the finals of the 1963 Miss America pageant with caution befitting a queen.

"I'm a little nervous," confessed Barbara Orr, Maine's representative, "because everything is going too smoothly."

"I think we all feel better after the opening rounds," said Miss Idaho, Irene Ammons. "The first night is the worst."

But, for the most part, questions concerning chances of wearing the coveted crown were being skirted with smiles and discreet silence.

For one thing, the 54 contestants faced a more immediate objective—reaching the semifinals. A third round of preliminary judging is scheduled tonight.

Semifinal and final rounds will be held Saturday night to be followed by the crowning of the country's newest dream girl at 11:30 p.m.

Carole Jean Van Valin, 21, a blonde from Michigan with measurements of 35-23-35, captured the swim suit honors in Thursday night's second round. Patrice Lei Anderson, a lyric soprano from Hawaii, placed first in the talent division with a sparkling rendition of "Un Bel Di" from Puccini's "Madam Butterfly."

They joined Charlotte Ann Carroll of Mississippi and Pamela Gilbert of Illinois as winners of preliminary rounds.

Evening gown competition is also part of the preliminary judging but results in that category are not announced so as to heighten the suspense.

Ten contestants will reach the semifinal round. All preliminary points are then discarded and all semifinalists will start on an equal basis.

361,360 Gallons Of Booze Too Much, Tooze Says

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—"It is not possible for a nation of 185 million people to drink 361,360 gallons of alcoholic beverages an hour and remain strong," the president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union (WCTU) said Thursday.

The WCTU, headed by Mrs. Fred J. Tooze of Evanston, Ill., opened its 88th annual convention today.

"A lot of people call us old ladies in witches' hats," Mrs. Tooze said. "But we've stuck to our guns over the years and the liquor industry is worried about us."

Mrs. Tooze said the convention will attack the "false formula" that alcoholism can be treated and cured.

"Americans are beginning to realize they are killing themselves and destroying their youth with what is plainly a narcotic—alcohol," Mrs. Tooze said.

Reporter Charges Secrecy Is Promoting Corruption

WASHINGTON (AP)—Clark R. Mollenhoff, prize-winning reporter and crusader for freedom of information, proposes some new guarantees of the people's right to know.

Mollenhoff has published a new book entitled "Washington Cover-up" or "How Bureaucratic Secrecy Promotes Corruption and Waste in the Federal Government."

He cites numerous instances to show that the executive branch has displayed a growing tendency, particularly since World War II, to withhold information from congressional committees, information which he emphasizes is essential to make democracy flourish.

Although recognizing that there are some cases where secrecy is in order, Mollenhoff holds they are far fewer than many officials have contended.

He says that although no president has ever been directly involved in fraud: "History has taught that any administration can harbor men who want to hide mistakes and corruption."

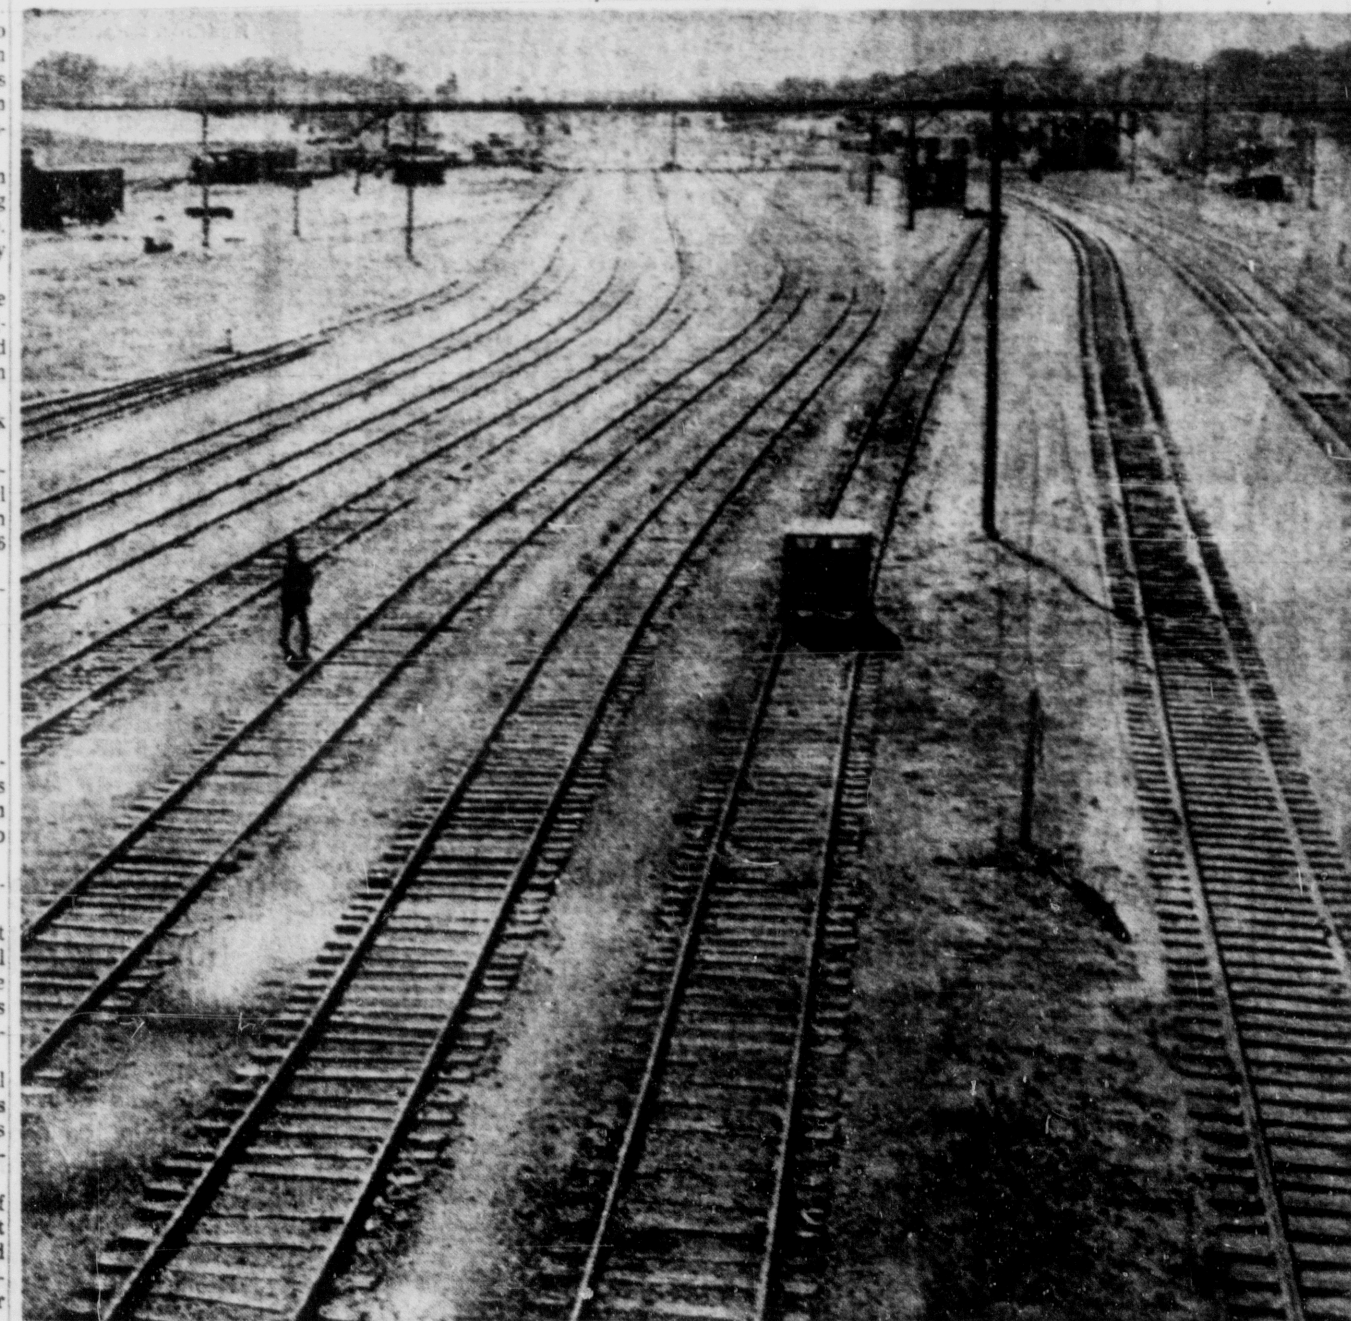

Among other things he suggests:

All officials except the president should be obligated to explain all their actions to Congress and the General Accounting Office, unless specific laws are passed for withholding information.

Congress should enact special laws to cover the specific areas in which withholding of records is deemed necessary to the public good.

Congress should provide stiff criminal penalties for use against government officials who withhold information from properly authorized committees of Congress or the GAO.

Mollenhoff, winner of the Pulitzer Prize and other awards, is a Washington newsman for the Cowles publications.

Farmington Man Dies In Tavern Shooting

DURANGO (AP) — Curtis Armstrong, 40, Farmington, N. M., died in a tavern shooting Wednesday night and his wife, Margaret, was jailed for investigation.

Dist. Atty. Al Haas said no charges had been filed. He said a witness, Robert C. Welsh, reported he took a 22 caliber pistol from Mrs. Armstrong when she put the gun to her head. Armstrong died of several 22 caliber bullet wounds in the tavern at Vallecito, resort northeast of Durango.

Armstrong was foreman at an El Paso Natural Gas Co. compressor station.

Medical Experts Urged New Air Line Safety Step

By ROBERT J. SERLING

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A special team of Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) medical experts today urged drastic new regulations to reduce the chances of suffocation in post-crash airplane fires.

The experts based their recommendations on a study of a single fatal accident—the crash of a United Air Lines DC8 jetliner at Denver July 11, 1961, in which 16 of the 122 occupants perished.

The study said, in effect, that the 16 deaths were unnecessary because of weakness in existing safety regulations. The medical team recommended that:

1. Verbal instructions in emergency evacuation procedures be given to passengers prior to any anticipated, unusual landing situation in which emergency evacuation might be necessary.

2. A re-evaluation of aisle widths in the tourist or economy sections of cabins to determine whether aisles should be wider for faster evacuation.

3. Posting of placards in air-liners showing the location of emergency exits in other parts of the cabin.

4. Further research designed to improve fire-fighting techniques at airports.

The study conducted at the FAA's Aviation Medical Research Center in Oklahoma City showed that all 16 of the Denver deaths occurred with 67 tourist-class passengers and two stewardesses jammed a 15 and 1/2-inch wide aisle, trying to get to the single usable emergency exit.

The study pointed out that the narrow aisle required the passengers in the rear section to evacuate in single file, a delay that subjected some of them to suffocating smoke.

By contrast, about 50 passengers and the remaining crew members easily evacuated the forward first class section which had aisles 22 inches wide.

The FAA team noted that the captain notified the passengers before the ill-fated landing that the jet was experiencing hydraulic difficulties. But, apparently there were no emergency evacuation instructions given by any crew member.

The study was not intended as a criticism of United, whose emergency training for cabin attendants is regarded as one of the industry's finest.

Railroad Strike Effects to Be Felt Slowly

By JESSE BOGUE

NEW YORK (UPI)—When a strike such as the Chicago and Northwestern's knocks out one link in the mesh of railroads stretching across the nation, its effects may be felt only slowly in connecting lines. Eastern railroad sources said today.

Arrangements by which shipping can be routed on alternate lines to automatically into effect, the Interstate Commerce Commission issues rerouting orders which permit this and which protect the shipper.

"Where the real long-range effects are felt, one railroad spokesman here said, 'is in the after-strike business done by the struck railroad in communities where it is the only line. If shippers find other means of transportation, they may be slow in coming all the way back.'"

Gordon Randall, district manager of the Association of American Railroads freight traffic division, said that he knew of no unusual incidents, traffic backups or the like, to have resulted from the walkout thus far.

"Generally speaking, we have no overlap," explained a Pennsylvania Railroad representative. "So we have merely transferred shipments to other lines, like the Milwaukee Road."

A New York Central source said that Western points on its line reported some diversion of cattle shipments appeared to have taken place. They were routed to the NYC from the Chicago Burlington and Quincy or the Milwaukee, where formerly they probably would have been received from the Northwestern.

Railroad sources here generally agreed on one point, that the trucking lines would be "going in there to reap a harvest."

Slavin to 'Clean Up' Denver Jungle Area

DENVER (UPI)—Denver Police Chief James Slavin promised Wednesday to clean up what a Denver priest called a "jungle" where persons were not safe on the streets.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Walter J. Canavan said the Capitol Hill neighborhood was so tough that he could not schedule an after-dark service at Immaculate Conception Cathedral.

The Roman Catholic priest said young hoodlums had turned the area "into a jungle" so dangerous the women in his parish could not risk going to church after sundown.

Slavin said the priest had not filed a formal complaint, but that the department would review the record of criminal assaults in the area.

Compact Car Driver Involved In Crash Fined

The driver of a compact car which left 60 feet of skid marks before colliding with another vehicle at the intersection of Moreno and Tejon Street the afternoon of Aug. 21 was found guilty of careless driving and fined $20 in Municipal Court Thursday.

The defendant, Richard Steward, 18, of 504 W. Brookside St., was traveling on Tejon Street and the other car, driven by Frank Floryan, 72, of 426 E. Espanola St., had entered the intersection from the west on Moreno Avenue at the time of the crash, according to police testimony.

Police Cpl. Roy Stanley told the court that the skid marks left by the Steward car were slight due to the light weight of the car. Steward told the court he had just left a dentist's office and was going to a drug store for medicine when the accident occurred.

"I had just had a tooth pulled and was on my way to a drug store. I did not see the Floryan car pull into the intersection until immediately before the impact," Steward said.

A witness for the defendant told the court that he was driving north on Tejon Street and just as he reached the intersection he noticed the Floryan car pull up at the stop sign on Moreno Avenue, hesitate and then pull into the intersection without coming to a complete stop.

Floryan, who was charged with taking the right of way at a thru intersection, told the court he did stop at the stop sign while eastbound on Moreno Avenue, and pulled into the intersection when he saw there was no traffic in the immediate vicinity.

"I don't know where the Steward car came from but it was nowhere near the intersection when I entered," Floryan said.

Municipal Judge Allan Asher said that it is the duty of all drivers to yield the right of way to cars traveling on thru streets, the evidence in this case indicates the Steward car was traveling at an excessive rate of speed. The case against Floryan was subsequently dismissed.

A witness for Floryan corroborated the judge's decision by telling the court during the trial that the compact vehicle was traveling straight down the street at 35 to 40 miles an hour prior to the collision. The speed limit at the collision site is 30 miles an hour.

Other cases were: Bruce Turner, 35, of 323 E. Columbia St., riotous conduct, case dismissed at failure of the complaining witness to appear; Rodolfo Martinez, 24, of 225 1/2 W. W. Ave., reckless and careless driving, case dismissed at failure of the complaining witness to appear; Lester Payne, 32, Oklahoma City, Okla., drunk, 15 days in jail suspended; providing the defendant departs the city of Colorado Springs within the next 12 hours; Tullis Sims, 48, Queen's Hotel, drunk, $50, $25 suspended.

Cavalier Club Gymkhana to Be Held Sunday

The Cavalier Riding Club will sponsor a gymkhana in the Ft. Carson stable area on Sunday, starting at 1 p.m.

Capt. W. L. Morpew, club president, invites all interested equestrians preschool age and under to enter. Fee for each event is 50 cents. All events will be judged and five place winners awarded an appropriate ribbon.

The nine events will begin with a lead rein class for the youngest riders at 1 p.m. Other classes are junior horsemanship (English), junior and senior western pleasure, barrel races, pole bending, and races.

Entrants and time permitting there will be a goat - tying contest.

Sgt. R. D. Ratcliff of Army Air Defense Command will award a trophy for the lead rein class winner.

A limited number of horses are available for rental by military and their dependents at the Carson Special Services Riding Academy.

Morpew said that the Sept. 9 gymkhana is being held because of the many riders unable to attend the annual event at Carson on July 28.

Man Booked Into Jail On Disturbance Charge

Donald F. Richardson, 28, Ft. Carson, was booked into county jail Thursday night for investigation of disturbance, the sheriff's office reported today.

Deputy Sheriffs Al Moore and Bob Snuggs said Richardson was staying at the Bates Motel, 2102 E. Platte Ave. The proprietor of the motel, George Bates, told the deputies that Richardson was in the bedroom with his wife, and was talking loudly and using profane language. He did not quiet down after Moore and Snuggs arrived, and Bates signed the complaint.

VERY REV. PAUL ROBERTS

Dean Paul Roberts To Hold Services In Broadmoor

The Very Rev. Paul Roberts, former rector of Grace Episcopal Church and dean emeritus of St. John's Cathedral, Denver, will assume charge of the Chapel of Our Saviour, Broadmoor, beginning Sunday, Oct. 14, and continuing until a successor is named to the Rev. William R. Shannon, vicar who resigned recently.

The Rev. C. Arch Hopper, retired priest living in Boulder, will conduct services at the chapel until Dean Roberts' arrival, the Rev. J. Lindsay Patton, rector of Grace Church, said in a letter to parishioners this week.

Dr. Patton said five men from various parts of the country are being considered for vicar of the Chapel of Our Saviour, and said "we will doubtless be considering as many more before the final selection is made."

L. M. Bildestein, senior warden, and James D. Adams, junior warden, of Grace Episcopal Church parish, said in a second letter that Mr. Shannon's resignation had been requested because of progress at the Chapel of Our Saviour had not been satisfactory to the parish vestry.

Red Cross Sending Contributions to Iranian Relief

The Pikes Peak Chapter, American Red Cross, is forwarding contributions of local residents and visitors to the disaster scenes of the Iranian earthquake and the Pakistan floods, according to Foster Fritchle, Red Cross chairman.

"No public appeal for funds has been made, but donations earmarked for these disasters have been received," Fritchle said.

A national disaster bulletin from the Midwest Area of the Red Cross in St. Louis has outlined procedures for locating relatives of residents believed to be in the disaster area. To date, Red Cross caseworkers have had no requests for this service from Pikes Peak Region residents.

The bulletin also stated that there is no indication that any American servicemen or dependents in the vicinity of APO 206 have been affected by the disaster.

Fritchle said that the American National Red Cross has forwarded $10,000 in cash and $5,000 worth of medicine to the Iran Red Cross and Sun, the counterpart of the Red Cross, the counterpart of the Red Cross and $15,000 to Pakistan.

Communication Network Tested By Carson Troops

Ft. Carson troops spilled out into the "South 40" Wednesday as the 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized) tested its communication network.

The "South 40" is land adjoining the post to the south on which the owners have granted maneuver rights to the Army.

Headquarters units of the division, each brigade, Division Artillery and Support Command, plus armor, military police, engineer, aviation and signal elements, loved together a broad radio net. At the completion of the test Thursday the troops returned to the main post.

Meanwhile, division infantrymen now veterans of months of training, are undergoing rigorous Army Training Tests at a battalion level.

The men, burned brown by the Colorado sun, are being tested in attack, withdrawal, night action and penetration of guerrilla forces. This week the three battalions of 1st Brigade, under Col. William G. Sullivan, completed their tests, with the 3rd Brigade providing support and opposition.

The 2nd Battalion, 11th Infantry, is scheduled to begin its four-day test on Tuesday, Sept. 11.

British Officials Embarrassed Over Soblen's Pills

baffled escorts rushed him to Hillingdon Hospital. Authorities immediately began an investigation to learn how Soblen, closely watched during his 10-week detention in Britain, had obtained the barbiturates.

Both the Home Office and prison authorities refused to advance any theories.

One British newspaper speculated Brixton Prison doctors treating him for leukemia. It said he might have pretended to swallow pills but concealed them under his tongue.

Unconfirmed press reports said prison officials found a cache of pills concealed in Soblen's bed only five days ago.

Other papers said pills might have been smuggled to Soblen, whose meals were brought in from a restaurant near the prison.

Neither theory explained why the pills were not found during periodic searches prison officers made, or how Soblen managed to take a massive dose when he presumably was under close surveillance.

Soblen was stripped and searched before leaving for the airport. There was speculation he might have swallowed the dose just before that.

The Daily Mail said Soblen had hidden the dose in a peach and took a bite of it in his quarters Thursday morning. The Mail said a basket of fruit was sent to him Thursday.

On his ride to the airport, Soblen was watched constantly by a detective, an ambulance attendant and a prison doctor. All expressed certainty he had not drugged himself during the ride.

Soblen jumped $10,000 bail and fled from New York to Israel June 25 after the U.S. Supreme Court refused to review his sentence. Israeli officials put him aboard an Israeli El Al plane for New York July 1. As the plane approached London, he slashed himself with a steak knife for his landing in Britain, and he was rushed to the same hospital where he now lies.

In the past 10 weeks he has thwarted expulsion orders by four appeals to the courts and two appeals for political asylum. Home Secretary Henry Brooke, Brooke rejected his final petition Wednesday and ordered him flown to New York.

Soblen has insisted he is innocent of the spy charge and declared he will die soon of leukemia.

British public sympathy for Soblen was reflected in newspaper editorials today.

"Whatever he has done," said the Daily Mail, "one cannot help admiring his cleverness or blaming the incompetence of those who have let him get away with it."

The Laborite Daily Herald said: "Soblen may not be an attractive character. But if he survives in the name of humanity the government should now drop the attempt to ship him back to America."

"Let him go to any country that will have him."

Communist Czechoslovakia has offered him asylum.

Jewish Community To Hold Services In Garden of Gods

The Jewish community will hold its Sabbath Eve Services at the Garden of the Gods tonight.

Under the auspices of the United Jewish Community, the gathering will start with Sabbath family dinner at the chuck wagon pavilion at 6 p.m. Following the Sabbath meal, which will begin with the blessing of the Sabbath candles by ladies present, the vesper service will start at 7 o'clock with Rabbi Robert Bergman officiating.

After the candle blessing, the Rabbi will bless the children and then lead those assembled in chanting the Kiddush blessing over the Sabbath wine goblet. Sabbath Hallel (the twist egg-fog served on the Sabbath and festival) at each table will be blessed and the meal will begin.

At the conclusion of the meal, the concluding grace will be recited and the congregation will adjourn to the adjacent worship area which will be graced by a portable Ark of the Law, pulpit and Menorah (Biblical seven-branched candelabrum).

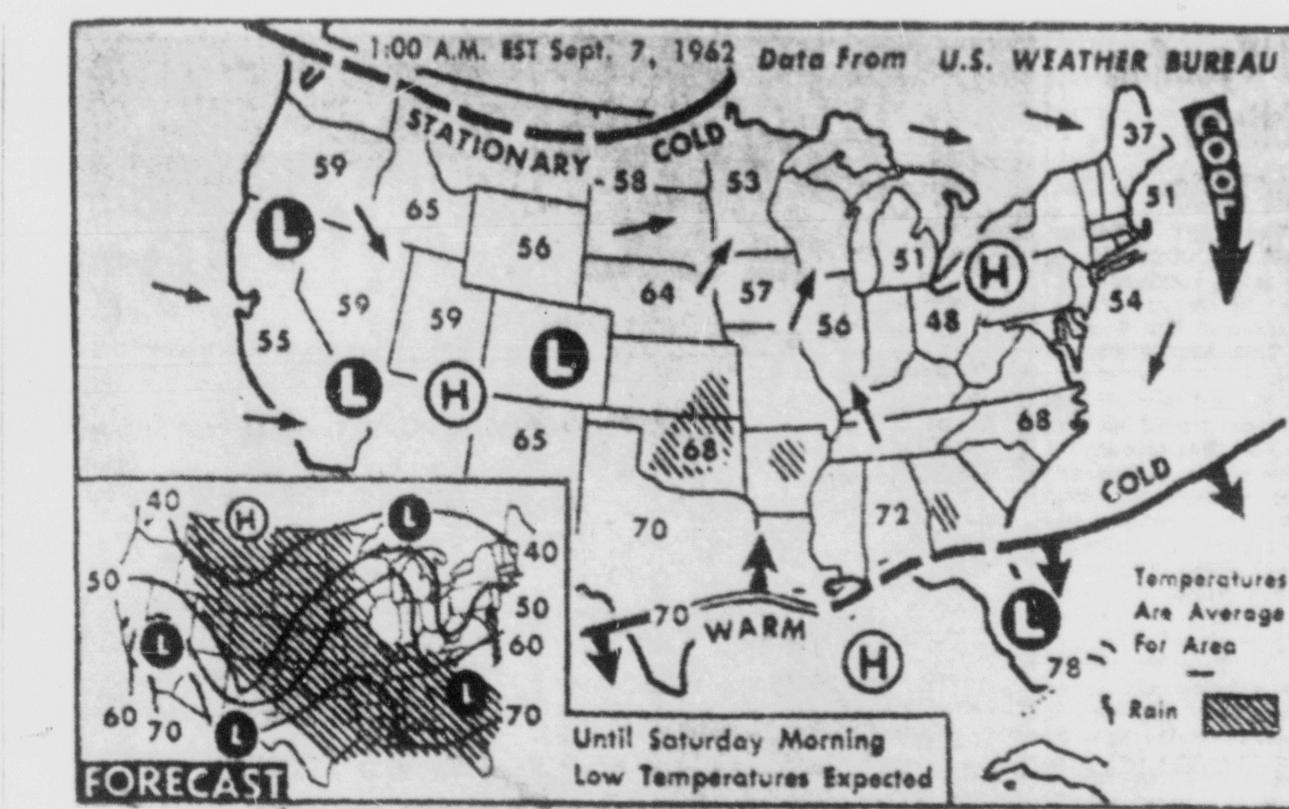

Light will be provided by candles, torches and flashlights in addition to the Garden of the Gods floodlights.

Families participating in the evening—which is open to the public—have been asked to bring their own food and flashlights. Sabbath loaves and prayerbooks will be provided.

The entire evening will terminate shortly after 7:30 p.m. to make it possible for youngsters to participate.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The November draft call has been set at 4,000 men.

The figure announced Thursday by the Pentagon is the same as for October and 1,000 below the July, August and September quotas.

Mountaineers From Ft. Carson On 10-Mile Hike

Their military mountaineering demonstrations are finished but Ft. Carson's best-known Mountaineers from the 5th Infantry Division Noncommissioned Officers Academy are still climbing.

The Mountaineers are a 10-mile hike to Emerald Valley Ranch west of Carson today with a troop information briefing on Viet Nam at mid-point.

The academy faculty will hike up two creeks in groups of 15 each and return by opposite route. This will acquaint them with the sessions for anti-gerrilla training and the escape and evasion problem.

The academy six-week leadership classes will begin Sept. 22. More than 11,000 spectators saw the academy climbers from June through Labor Day in their twice weekly demonstrations in North Cheyenne Canon.

An emergency rescue and recovery of two girls in nearby Seven Falls canon and an Air Force recovery mission in San Juan National Forest were the climax to a summer of keeping their mountaineering skills sharp for missions such as these.

Girl Bitten on Lip While Playing With Dog

Tammy Ann Tripp, 2, of 2021 Salt Dr. was treated at Memorial Hospital Thursday night for a dog bite she received on the upper lip while playing with the animal in the basement of a home at 2308 E. Uintah St.

Police Officers Donald Watts and James Caldwell reported that the child received a tetanus shot and was later released from the hospital after treatment.

Owner of the dog, Mrs. Albert Ulrich, 2308 E. Uintah St., was contacted and notified to confine the animal for the customary 14-day observational period, police said.

Hand Power Saw Taken From Parked Truck

Bob Walton of Buena Vista told the sheriff's office Thursday that a hand power saw worth $40 had been stolen from the back of his truck.

Deputy Sheriff Vincent Denboske said the vehicle was parked at the back of Phil's Lounge, U.S. Highway 24, and that the theft occurred Wednesday night.

her sister's side and asked for water. Recalling this Thursday night, Julie said "they didn't have any water but they gave me some coffee. They asked me if I was all right and I said I was. Then they gave me some fruit, too. I think they were grapes. They tasted good. They put some saliva on my lips and made them feel better."

Praised for looking after her injured sister, Julie smiled and said: "We took care of each other. She took care of me, too, and told me what to do."

Were they afraid? "Not so much. But we got awful hungry and thirsty."

Then Julie seemed to grow tired. Her grandmother patted her on the head and said, "You had better rest for a while, dear."

The single engine Piper Cherokee that carried Julie's parents to their death took off from Big Bear Airport Monday afternoon after a holiday at the mountain resort.

They were headed for their home 110 miles away in a San Diego suburb. A few minutes later it crashed on the mountainside. No one knows why. Some said there were high winds in the area at the time.

East Coast ADC Squadron Wins Hughes Trophy

A crack East Coast Air Defense Command jet fighter squadron which helps guard the nation's Capital has taken top honors in Air Force-wide Hughes Trophy competition for 1962.

ADC fighter squadrons have won the Hughes Trophy seven out of ten times since the annual flying achievement award was established in 1952.

Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Curtis E. LeMay this week named the 44th Fighter Interceptor Squadron based at Charleston AFB, S.C., to receive the Hughes Trophy for outstanding achievement in air defense interceptor operations for the year ended July 1.

ADC commander Lt. Gen. Robert M. Lee will present the trophy awarded at the Night Fighters Association Annual Convention in Las Vegas, Nev., Sept. 22.

The 44th — nicknamed "The Johnny Reb Squadron" — flies the supersonic F-101 McDonnell "Voodoo" under the command of Lt. Col. Marvin W. Glasgow of Birmingham, Ala. A veteran of 18 years military flying, he has commanded the squadron since September, 1960.

The "triple four" squadron, a unit of ADC's 28th Air Division, Hancock Field, Syracuse, N.Y., stands round-the-clock intercept alert duty in support of the air defense mission within the Washington (D.C.) Air Defense Sector. The squadron represents an important part of Air Force operational forces assigned to the U.S. Canadian North American Air Defense Command (NORAD).

The 44th had to compete with six other top-rated ADC fighter interceptor units to win nomination as the ADC entry in Air Force-wide Hughes Trophy competition.

Californian Suffers Heart Attack Here

Hans Albertson, 75, of Los Angeles, Calif., suffered a reported heart attack at the Courthouse Thursday. He had been in the Justice of the Peace Court on a traffic case and afterwards was overcome outside of the courtroom. The fire department was called at 2:10 p.m. and used an inhalator, after which Albertson was taken to Penrose Hospital in an ambulance. His condition was satisfactory this morning.

Today's Weather

(Reports furnished by U. S. Weather Bureau Station at Peterson Field at 5:30 a.m. today)

Just as one of the coldest air masses ever to move across the northern United States in early September began to move out over the north Atlantic, another very cold outbreak spilled across the Canadian border into Montana.

Northerly winds up to 40 miles an hour blew cold rain into the Flathead Valley region of Montana and at Calgary, Alberta, just to the north, it was snowing with winds of 40 to 50 miles an hour whistling down from the Canadian icebox in the Yukon.

Extensive cloud shield covered the southern and central plains eastward thru the Gulf states and to southern New England as warm moist air overrode the very cool air covering the northern states. Drizzle and light rain fell over parts of Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Georgia, with isolated thundershowers erupting along the Louisiana and Florida coast.

A few showers occurred thru western Colorado and northern New Mexico and low clouds and some drizzle shrouded the Oregon and California coastlines.

Clear skies prevailed elsewhere over the country. Numerous records of long standing were shattered this morning in the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley, eastward thru New England, and middle Atlantic states, as autumn weather arrived early. Cool 50s occurred south to the northern Gulf states, and in the east with 60s and 70s thru the southern states while in the middle part of the nation, the 60s occurred northward to Nebraska with the 70s over the northern plains.

The 50s were also found over the Rockies and the northern plains and along the Pacific coast, ranging thru the 60s and 70s in the inland valleys of Washington, Oregon and California.

Council Starts Informal Budget Discussions

Budget discussions have been started by the Colorado Springs City Council, according to Mayor William C. Henderson.

The council met in informal sessions Wednesday and Thursday to go over the budget for the first time with City Manager John M. Biery.

The mayor said that the council has not yet made any decisions on individual budget items. However, he said, several deletions have already been made by the city manager.

After going thru the general budget, the council will go thru item-by-item, to determine the need of each request, Henderson said.

He said that the only large capital improvement project for 1963 will be the remodeling of City Hall, estimated to cost between $100,000 and $130,000.

The council has yet to receive the inventory of needs that has been in preparation by the City Planning Commission during the past seven months. The project is expected to outline capital improvement needs of the city for the next five years.

Wayne Browneller, chairman of the City Planning Commission, said the commission will submit to the council a priority of needs, but will not attempt to solve the method of the financing of the program.

Henderson said that because of the tightness of this year's budget the council will have to study each item carefully in order to keep the mill levy down.

Informal budget discussions are expected to continue during the next two weeks. One or more public hearings will then be scheduled this month before the budget is finalized.

JFK Asks Power to Call Reserves in Crisis Event

posed legislation was completed this morning at a meeting of Kennedy and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The law of August 1961, adopted in the heat of the Berlin crisis, empowered the government to order 250,000 to duty.

Since then, Salinger observed, the country's regular armed forces have been increased. Two new Army divisions have been activated. House GOP leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana suggested today that Congress, before adjourning, adopt a resolution giving Kennedy backing and authority to take whatever steps he deems necessary, including the use of armed forces, to protect vital security interests.

Salinger said a draft of the proposed legislation would give these powers.

Between adjournment of Congress and the Feb. 28 deadline, Kennedy could authorize McNamara to extend enlistments, appointments, periods of active duty and of active duty for training, periods of obligated service, or other military status, in any component of the armed services, or in the National Guard, for not more than one year. These extensions, if ordered, would apply to servicemen whose terms expire between adjournment and next February.

"The President is asking for this power," Salinger said, "during the period that the Congress will not be in session and the period of approximately two months after Congress returns because of the critical nature of the international situation."

Estes Was Given Favored Deals, Witness Testifies

long distance telephone calls between Dennison and Rutherford in a year.

The Pecos, Tex., promoter was arrested March 29 on federal fraud charges, accused of selling mortgages on non-existent fertilizer tanks. He is awaiting trial on this charge and a state charge of theft.

Hales repeated under oath today substantially the same allegations he voiced against superiors at a news conference May 4.

He said he was forced to appear at the news conference without being allowed time for adequate preparation in a "most blatant effort to discredit my testimony."

He said he was locked out of his office as an investigative official and barred from Estes case files last spring after he had advocated a crackdown.

The department ultimately did cancel cotton planting allotments. Estes had gained through land deals, saying he got them illegally. The department levied more than $600,000 in civil penalties against him, $354,000 for the allotment transfers and $246,000 for overplanting in Alabama.

Hales — contradicting Freeman Murphy, and other officials — charged this was done only because of the fear of a scandal following Estes' arrest.

Ex-GI Wins Fight To Bring Korean Girl Over to U.S.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A quiet little Korean girl arrived Thursday night from her homeland to marry the ex-GI who battled government red tape for months to get her here.

Song In Cha, 20, stepped off the airplane at International Airport, and a beaming William H. Mahoney, 24, remembered his Korean manners enough to give her an oriental bow.

Then he took a suitcase from the hand of the blue-eyed brunette and told her he would carry it himself.

"That's the American custom," he said.

Mahoney said they would be married next week in his hometown of Riverside, Calif.

They met while he was in the Army in Korea. He tried to marry her before his discharge last year but was unsuccessful. He returned home and eventually was able to get nationwide attention when news media picked up the story.

The girl's passage was paid by a television show (CBS "Who in the World").

Child Swallows Cigarette; Firemen Are Called

The fire department was called this morning when Lydia Allison, 9-month-old daughter of Mrs. Ralph Allison, 2909 W. Colorado Ave., swallowed a cigarette, which she had picked up from an ash tray. The cigarette was not lit. The rescuer's crews of Company 5 responded to the call. When the firemen reached the house the child was breathing normally and no apparatus was used.

Firemen Called to Aid West Side Resident

The fire department was called at 5:40 p.m. Thursday when D. R. Kitchen suffered a reported heart attack at 1716 W. Bijou St. The rescuer's crews of Company 3 and Aerial Company responded. After treatment by the firemen, Kitchen was taken to Memorial Hospital.

DEADLINE SET — City officials notified owners of the burned out Albany Hotel Thursday they have until Oct. 4 to decide whether to restore the downtown building or destroy it. The hotel suffered $1 million worth of damage in a fire that killed one occupant and injured 50 persons Sunday.

A new gas transmission line serving Colorado would be constructed, as part of the project, to replace a line now more than 30 years old. Colorado Interstate Gas Company sells gas to distribution companies, including Public Service Company of Colorado.

Midwest Economy Is Hit By Walkout on Railroad

HONORS WAR DEAD

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai-shek made his first public appearance Monday since undergoing an operation last May. Chiang, who will be 75 Oct. 31, led a group of government officials in a memorial service here honoring China's war dead. He appeared in good health.

CHICAGO (AP) — The economic consequences of the week-long strike by the Telegraphers union, which has shut down the Chicago and North Western Railway were felt today in an increasing number of Midwest communities. A federal mediator continued his efforts in Chicago to try to bring the railroad and the Order of Railroad Telegraphers into agreement while business, commerce and agricultural interests sought other means of transportation.

The North Western, with 10,600 miles of track in nine Midwestern states, operates the nation's third longest system. Directors of the Belle Fourche S. D. Chamber of Commerce offered to recruit labor to man C&NW trains to haul sugar beet to that processing center if the railroad would furnish equipment and supervision.

However, C. F. Mortimer, the chamber president, said he received a telegram from Ben F. Heeneman, chairman of the North Western, rejecting the offer because "this might lead to violence." A highly perishable crop of sugar beets from Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota estimated at 170,000 tons and valued at $2.5 million must be moved to Belle Fourche, the chamber said in telegrams sent to the railroad, the union and public officials.

At Pierre, S. D., contractors reported feeling the pinch of the strike. They depend on North Western for movement of oil, gravel and other surfacing materials used in road construction.

Firms working on river bank protection at the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Big Bend Dam Project at Pierre are unable to get rock, a corps spokesman said. At Omaha, Ace R. Cory, manager of Cargil Company's Omaha elevator terminal, said, "We're practically out of business. We plan to lay off most of our crew at the end of the week."

Cargil gets most of its grain from points on the North Western. A spokesman for Omaha's Union Stockyards said most livestock shippers are using other means to get stock to market, and a grocery warehouse reported switching to trucks.

At Middle Grove, Ill., near Peoria, the Midland Electric Co. laid off 300 miners last Friday and told them there will be no more work until the strike is settled. The Navy Pier Port in Chicago estimates that it is losing $100,000 a day because of the strike. Movement of cargo from the port will shrink to a virtual trickle in another day or so, a spokesman said, and ships will go to other ports.

At Sioux City, Iowa, a river stabilization project and street blacktopping have been halted because crushed rock is tied up in North Western cars. A grain elevator also is closed down because the North Western is the only access to it. The strike has idled 300 workers. Three major papermaking firms employing more than 4,000 workers at Kaukauna, Peshtigo, Kimberly and Nizara in northern Wisconsin said the strike will have a critical impact on their operations if it is not settled soon.

Taxi boats that plied the Chicago River in Chicago between the North Western terminal and Michigan Avenue were docked. The 35,000 commuters who ordinarily use the railroad switched to other lines, to buses, to automobiles and to the elevated-subway trains that operate from Chicago's main business district to the fringes of the suburban areas.

PLEADS GUILTY
DENVER (UPI)—Eugene David Gonzales, 19, of Denver pleaded guilty to voluntary manslaughter Wednesday in the fatal shooting of Joseph Alfonso Freyta, 18, Denver, during a wine party last March 13. Dist. Judge Mitchell B. Johns scheduled Oct. 13 for a sentence hearing. Gonzales originally was charged with murder.

Security Is Responsibility

The difference between an immature, not to a large or a steady mature economy and a mature economy is that the immature economy is usually more vigorous. Why?

Because when an economy is young, it is usually productive. People are more concerned with production than with anything else. They begin from a condition of nature which is always a condition of great privation.

The major concern is to produce so that the privation can be alleviated.

When an economy becomes "mature," the philosophy usually changes. In a "mature" economy, the people are more interested in consuming than in producing.

The shift from an immature to a mature economy is usually disastrous. It is usually a "loss" to the person who lives in a mature period.

In an immature economy, there is a "forward look" which encourages people to think of their future of themselves and their children. In a mature economy, there is a "backward look" which encourages people to think of their past and their children.

There is one element of hope. While a mature economy is usually a consumptive economy, there is always a major drive for "security." Even the people want to enjoy themselves more and their shoulders are borne by the state.

But the drive for security, if it is to be really understood and mastered, may yet pull us out of our unwed mothers, not lunches the tendency we have in a mature economy to eat the seed corn.

History gives a melancholy answer arriving at the only kind of security there really is. A loss of security there really is. A loss of security there really is. A loss of security there really is.

Anniversary

By GEORGE BOARDMAN, Ph.D.
On August 1 we began the third year of our personally instituted boycott against government, as it presently exists.

Three families in this ghost town are addicted to the philosophy of freedom. Separately and gradually we have learned more and more about self-sufficiency. Three wives have bread. My own wife is presently experimenting with an exotic jelly made from the prickly pear cactus apple and it is very fine. So is a candy made from the same kind of cactus fruit. The price is right.

What is that one thing? It is the turning of your responsibilities over to the state at every turn.

What do you want for yourself and for the community in which you live? Examine your attitude.

If you feel that you should have a steady job, do you look to government to find it for you? Do you think government should insure you against failure? Do you think government should provide your library, your school, your medical examinations? Do you think government should examine your food for you so that you will be protected from making improper choices? Do you think government should cut down on your profits and destroy incentives for your pressures and enjoyments? Do you think government should let the future and their children who will occupy it, look after themselves?

There is one element of hope. While a mature economy is usually a consumptive economy, there is always a major drive for "security." Even the people want to enjoy themselves more and their shoulders are borne by the state.

But the drive for security, if it is to be really understood and mastered, may yet pull us out of our unwed mothers, not lunches the tendency we have in a mature economy to eat the seed corn.

THE HESITATION WALK

It's Up to You
A Vital Commodity

By H. E. KERSHNER, L.H.D.
Four years after the close of push plans to nationalize American World War II, we had $24.7 billion of electric power industry production in gold. At that time, foreign claims against the world's biggest socialist power project — the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Created by Congress nearly three decades ago for agricultural and industrial development, among other things, TVA's seven-state area actually is one of the nation's most depressed. And this is in spite of the fact that all taxpayers have been forced by Congress to pour more than two billion dollars of their hard-earned income into the area.

Why should a gigantic octopus with tentacles stretching through Tennessee and into Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina and Virginia, fail to accomplish the very purpose for which it was created — to bring prosperity to a languishing area in an otherwise prosperous nation?

Perhaps one of the answers lies in the principal purpose for which it was created. This was to control floods in the meandering Tennessee Valley. Before TVA, most of the lush farmland lay in the river bottoms where crops grew in abundance. But with the construction of high multi-purpose dams which created giant lakes, TVA brought the greatest flood ever known to the valley. More over, it is permanent, not just an occasional flood that brings disaster to comparatively few farmers, but a permanent one in ten years.

Today, out of America's 30 farm states, Tennessee ranks 25th. While the average value of land in the United States is $34,472, those in the Tennessee Valley are worth only $14,435. Tennessee is second from the bottom of the seven states for many years has been beyond for its resources. Aside from the only $750 more than Alabama's fact that much of this aid is going to its enemies, it is bringing us dangerously near to bankruptcy in an international sense with the incalculable loss in prestige and economic strength that would mean for ourselves and the whole free world.

The gold standard is the only known way of curbing the spending proclivities of a government. It is the one means that citizens of a self-governing country have of protecting themselves.

Gold is the one commodity that is acceptable everywhere in the world in payment of any claim. It is the only means any country has of maintaining its international solvency. To conserve it, and to produce more of it is a prime obligation, not tyrants who exploit them.

Open Parliament

The statements and opinions expressed in this column are those of the contributors and do not necessarily express the views of the newspaper.

CIVIL SERVANTS
Contrary to the explanation offered by our most amiable and learned lecturer of "Freedom," federal civil servants have a mandatory pension plan for which they are obliged to contribute 6 1/2 per cent of their basic salary. This money is placed in a pension fund, which draws no interest, but is supplemented, to equal this amount by the local agency. The amount is based on the years of service.

If a pensioner elects to provide an amount of 50 per cent of an annuity for a surviving spouse, 5 per cent of the first $100 plus 10 per cent of the annuity over $100, plus 1/4 of 1 per cent for each year the spouse is under the age of 60 years, is deducted from the yearly annuity payments. This is insurance perhaps little different from that offered by private companies.

At the time all contributions toward this pension fund have been returned in monthly annuity in installments, the succeeding payments are subject to federal income tax.

Colorado like other states has provided an exemption law, for this type of insurance.

I also feel that those who have served their country in the armed forces are entitled to the same consideration and agree a discrimination is evident.

I am quite sure the editor is aware of the fact that federal civil servants are required to contribute to their pension plan, but I am not quite sure why his position is prejudice toward these people.

WILLIAM POTTER
2915 Concord St.

Editor's note: William Potter objects to the "explanation" offered by ye editor in a note appearing in the August 28th issue of the Gazette-Telegraph. Actually, no explanation was made. Philip Ernst directed a letter to this column wanting to know why there was discrimination, tax wise, between retired Army personnel and retired Civil Service workers.

Ye editor merely observed that the practice relates to the true function of government which is to provide jobs and gratuities. This is true.

Mr. Potter brings up the pension question, but at the same time he agrees that a discrimination is evident. We agree that this is so.

But we are not prejudiced against Civil Service employees, as he seems to feel. We are simply out of sympathy with the Civil Service system which creates seniority, job certainty and now it seems, even forces its own people to take out a pension whether they care to do so or not.

Our sympathies are with the employees both in and out of the Civil Service system. Most of all our sympathies lie with the taxpayers who are compelled to pay the wages of all Civil Service personnel, whether they provide useful services or not.

ENCROACHMENT
Since inception of TVA, public power advocates have been hankering away a little at a time at investor-owned electric companies in various parts of the nation, and doing it so imperceptibly that the people have hardly been aware of what they have been up to. More than one-fifth of the nation's power supply is now socialized.

You, as a free citizen who believes in our republican form of government, can reverse this socialistic trend. Before you vote in November, learn where your congressional and other candidates stand on public power. Vote against all candidates favoring federal power.

Otherwise you will be voting for more Valleys of Depression!

Billie Sol Estes Is Innocent, His Lawyer Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Billie Sol Estes' lawyer testified here his client is innocent of wrongdoing or unethical conduct in farm-aid deals now under fire in a Senate investigation.

John Dennison, Peas, Tex., attorney for Estes, also denied that he or Estes got any favored treatment from the Agriculture Department in connection with the deals.

He gave the testimony under questioning by Republican and Democratic members of the Senate investigations subcommittee.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., seeks to learn whether political influence helped Estes to make profits from farm-aid deals the department subsequently had atacked as illegal.

After about an hour and a half of questioning by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., in which Dennison defended Estes' cotton acreage allotment juggling, Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., took over.

"Are we to understand that the purpose of this colloquy is to convey the opinion that all of the acts of Billie Sol Estes were legal, valid, bonafide, without taint of any wrongdoing?" Curtis asked.

"Senator," Dennison answered, "there has been no wrongdoing or unethical conduct of any type to my knowledge."

In one of his exchanges, Ervin asked Dennison, "If you think that a very strong case can be made for the proposition that Estes was a layman who relied on advice of his lawyers in the cotton transactions and had no reason to believe an error had been made in the farm aid officials' initial approval of them?"

"Yes," Dennison replied, and added that "the best evidence is the fact that the cotton allotment was issued, and he had a right to rely on it."

The ladies of the two guilds of the Community Church met Tuesday evening last week at the churchhouse. Mrs. Robert McQuier showed slides of her pictures taken in Guatemala and Old Mexico. Devotionals were given by Mrs. P. R. Epley. Under discussion were missionaries which the guilds help support. Two of them, Sam Clark and Miss Carrie Muntz, will be married September 8 in Costa Rica. Both have visited in this community. Hostesses were Barbara Elwell and Cherris Harbaugh. The tea table was gorgeous, with lavender and white as the color scheme.

Summer residents and visitors on Bluebird Hill held a picnic last Wednesday. Present were Zora Stueck, Dot Reasor, Della Peters, Mrs. Wingeback, Hervey Klusmire, Fred Graham and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eckel.

Arnold Moody, who has spent the summer at the home of his sister, Mrs. Glen Davis, and family, returned to his home at Perryville, Ark. The Davises entertained the young folks of the Baptist Church Sunday evening at their home in honor of Arnold's departure.

Joe Leigh of Denver and Steve Guthrie of Kansas City, Mo., are visiting at the Dr. Joe Reece home as the guests of the Misses Johanna and Janie Reece.

Mrs. V. E. Monnett entertained several friends from Lake George and Colorado Springs on Wednesday at a bridge luncheon at Paint Pony Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown Monnett and daughters left for their home in Stillwater, Okla., after visiting at the home of Mr. Brown's parents, Dr. and Mrs. V. E. Monnett. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McDermott of Norman, Okla.

The ladies of the Assembly of God Church met Thursday afternoon at the parsonage for an all-day meeting. Mrs. Richard Smith conducted a Bible study on the 18th chapter of Matthew. The ladies spent the day sewing and working on stuffed toys for Christmas. The next meeting will be Sept. 13, with Mrs. Herman Bachman in Green Mountain Falls.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Meyer have been Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sutton and family, from Fairbury, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hanes of Phoenix, Ariz.

Spending their vacation in the Herald Watson house are his cousins, Dale Willard and family from Pueblo.

Mr. and Mrs. Herald Walton and family left for their home in St. John, Ill. after spending the summer in Woodland Park while Mr. Walton attended summer school in Colorado Springs. They stopped en route home at the home of Mrs. Walton's parents in Kansas. While they were there, Mrs. Walton's father died.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred White and family were Mr. and Mrs. C. M. White, Mr. and Mrs. Larry White and son, Danny Ray, and Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Peterson, all of Cherokee, Okla. Mrs. White is the new Home Economics teacher. She and her family recently moved here from Denver and formerly, Cherokee.

Terry, the 3 1/2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Ballard, fell and broke his arm. It was the same arm that he broke earlier in the year. The little lad seems to be allergic to broken bones. He suffered a leg fracture when he was hardly more than a year old.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Reynolds of Holton, Kan., have been calling on friends in the community. At one time the Reynolds were in business here in what was then known as the Reynolds Electric Co. Because of ill health they sold out to Clarence Kientz, who changed the name to Kientz Electric.

The members of the Assembly of God Church held a picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Starr Monday night of last week.

Mike Neff, who spent the summer at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Neff, left Tuesday for Waco, Texas, where he will resume his studies as a pre-medical student at Baylor University.

Mrs. Ross Lovinger and children of Naperville, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Smith made a three-day tour of Colorado.

Members of the Woodland Park Grange met Saturday evening at the Grange Hall for their regular session and annual election. A covered dish supper was enjoyed by those present. Officers elected were: Master, Clyde Denny; Overseer, Ernie Kowitz; Lecturer, Helen Evans; Steward, Fred Roberts; Assistant Steward, James Osburn; Treasurer, Zelma Worden; Secretary, Edith Atwell; Chaplain, Irene Denny; Gatekeeper, John Turpen; Ceres, Jane Ernsperger; Flora, Jean Osburn and Lady Assistant Steward, Dorothy Turpen. The Session of the State Grange will be held at Denver on September 28, 29, 30, and October 1 and 2. It was reported that the well had been dug at the Grange Hall property. There will be a work day at the hall Saturday, Sept. 8.

Labor Day week-end visitors at the Clarence Kientz home were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Reynolds, Holton, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Carson, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buehler, Topeka, Kan., and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kientz and family, Boulder.

There will be a reception for the school teachers Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Churchhouse. Preceding the Sunday night supper at 6 p.m.

Students attending college are Donna Casler, Colorado State, at Greeley, and Urban Quint, Otero Junior College, in the Arkansas Valley.

Miss Jane Ann Carlson, who won the Star Review at the local County Fair at Cripple Creek, spent a week at Camp Tobin at the Pueblo State Fair.

Open house will be held for Mr. and Mrs. Jess Kauffman at the Kauffman home Sunday afternoon, Sept. 8, from 2:30 to 5:30, in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Howard and son, Cary, have moved into a cabin at Hidden Acres.

Mrs. Harley Inman, who had five entries of her handwork at the State Fair, captured five ribbons, two of them being blue ribbons. She had entered a needlepoint picture, afghan, luncheon set and two cross stitch linen tablecloths.

Mrs. B. B. Burns, who has been a patient at a Colorado Springs hospital for tests and observation, has returned to her home. Mrs. J. A. Reed is a patient at Penrose Hospital following surgery.

Ronnie Schupp drove to Cheyenne Saturday and attended the wedding of a fraternity brother, Mike Bullock to Miss Penny Clarke.

Mrs. Lewis Lynch, PTA program chairman, had a committee meeting at her home. Plans were made for the reception for the school teachers at the first regular PTA meeting which will be Tuesday evening September 11th at 7:30. The time of the meetings have been changed from 8 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Lynch served refreshments to Mrs. Manfred Schupp, Mrs. Bob Maytag, Mrs. Vernon Brinkley and the PTA president, Mrs. Jack Adams.

Dan Hughes, who has had employment in a bank at Las Vegas, Nevada, during the summer, has returned to Woodland Park and is spending a while at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hughes.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pickett have been Mr. and Mrs. Ray LeMarr and family of Wheatridge, Mr. and Mrs. Myrie Patterson of Ft. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peterson and family of Kearney, Neb., and Mr. and Mrs. Dee E. Pettigrew and daughters Dee Ann and Rox Ann of Lincoln, Neb.

When she arrived at her Beverly Hills home that night—after a day emoting in $1,000 Jean Louis gowns—she answered her husband's "happy birthday," with a blubbering, "Th-th-thank you, dear."

Mitzi's one of the happiest girls in town. And the set of "Three on a Match," the film she's making with Kirk Douglas, is one of the gayest—thanks mostly to Mitzi.

"I had this weeping scene," she explained the next day, "and they kept doing retakes. By the time I got home, I couldn't stop crying."

"No more tears today—today I'm mad—but she didn't look mad, only in front of the camera. Mitzi's one of the best muggers in the business."

At 31, Mitzi's as unspoiled as when she started as a 150-pound 16-year-old. And she has little reason for tears.

"I couldn't see how they were going to make a star out of that girl when she first turned up at Twentieth—she was so chubby," said an old hand who knew her then. "But look at her now." Today's Mitzi is a breath-catching 114 pounds.

For years afterward, the little girl from Detroit was just another pretty hooper in a succession of lightweight films.

Then came the role of Nellie Forghush in "South Pacific" and then Las Vegas.

Her nightclub act was a smash when it opened at the Flamingo last year.

Mitzi earned her $40,000 a week with everything from hilarious takeoffs to socko singing and dancing. The act was an equal success in Miami, New Jersey and Lake Tahoe.

"Getting back to movies after two years is really a match," she said. "I used to get to bed at 5 a.m. Now, that's when I get up."

"This is a wonderful picture, but it's been a lot of work," she said. "We started making it right after I returned from Tahoe. I'm going to take some time off in November when I finish and just enjoy the house."

"It's the first home Jack and I have had since we were married."

Referring to her eight-year marriage to her business manager, Jack Bean, she said, "We have everything we want—except children—and we're certainly hoping to have some."

Goldwater Says Reds To Foment Revolutions

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., told newsmen Wednesday night the Soviet Union will not attack the United States from Cuba, but the Soviets can support revolutions in Latin America from the island.

"I don't think Russia would fight for Cuba," he said, "but as long as we are not going to protect ourselves Russia is going to take the advantage we give her. Cuba is not a military threat. It is a threat against the Latin-American countries."

DENVER (UPI)—The Colorado Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said Wednesday state turkey growers are raising 1,585,000 turkeys this year, 21 per cent smaller than last year.

How to Duck the Food Quacks

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI)—Food quacks prey on people to the tune of $500 million a year, says Louise W. Hamilton, extension nutrition specialist of the Pennsylvania State University.

Miss Hamilton contends the way to combat dishonest food peddlers is to consult a family doctor, a dietitian, or a home economics advisor for nutritional advice.

She pointed out that many food quacks try to scare people into buying their products, and warn of salesmen who claim that disease is due to improper diet or depleted soil, that chemical fertilizers are harmful to plants and that some foods are wonder foods.

Roasting a lamb shoulder? Add a jar of drained onions and a can of whole small white potatoes to the roasting pan when the meat is on its way to being done.

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Get It Straight!

DEAR ABBY: We are a group of women who have had a two-ROZ table mah jongg club for the past ten years. We are all the original group and are friends of long standing. About three months ago we noticed that one of the women in the group was cheating. There is no question about it because several of us have been watching her and we are sure. No one wants to be the spokesman for the club and tell her we don't want to play with her any more. How can we handle this situation? (Crack ham, time how should this be handled?)

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were both married before, and about it because several of us have been watching her and we are sure. No one wants to be the spokesman for the club and tell her we don't want to play with her any more. How can we handle this situation? (Crack ham, time how should this be handled?)

DEAR ABBY: I have been married a year and I could really care for him, but I can't find out how he feels about me. He takes me out twice a week and, as far as I know, I'm the only one he dates. But he has never talked about "our future" or his feelings for me, but, oh boy, when he kisses me I just about fall apart! I can tell that he really likes me, but he

Drop-Shoulder Jacket

Paris-born Jacques Tiffeau, now creating in New York for Tiffeau & Busch, is the symbol of fashion individuality for cosmopolitan American women. His designs reflect utter simplicity and femininity but retain top-flight tailoring details throughout.

A case in point is the mobile silhouette of this dropped shoulder, deep sleeve jacket with its high one-button closing and its collarless neckline curved low on the throat. The fluid princess shaping appears to form a continuous line extending from front to back. This smart hip-skimming jacket is perfectly suited to a slender skirt.

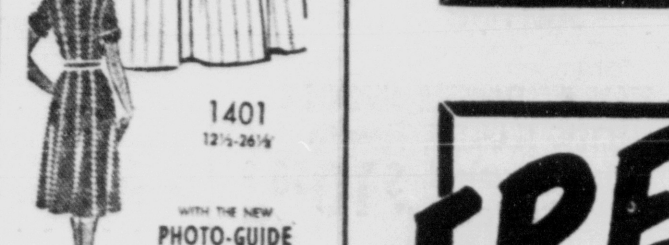

Suggested fabrics are lacy open weaves, silk and wool blends, nubby tweeds, faile, bengaline, shantung, raw silk, suiting cottons or linen. Separate patterns make it possible for you to choose different sizes for the jacket and skirt. From these corresponding body measurements select the size best for you. Our sizing is comparable to that used for better ready-to-wear.

Star Pans Tan, Shuns the Sun

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Arlene Dahl, one of Hollywood's most glamorous stars, warns the nation's bathing beauties to stay in the shade and forget about getting a tan.

A stunning tan may snare boy friends, but gals pay a high price for them, she said.

"I used to envy people who get a tan until I went to see a dermatologist and he said the sun ages women faster than anything else," Miss Dahl claimed.

"He told me that women who stay out of the direct sunlight have the skin of a teen-ager when they're 50 years old," she added.

Some of the skins of Hollywood's sun-tanned women appall Miss Dahl, a fair-skinned redhead.

"I see these women and they look like alligator skin," she said. "I like alligator skin, but only for purses and shoes."

"Sun dries out skin and brings out wrinkles and the grease in it. premature wrinkles and the damage can't be repaired. Some put oil on their face and that's all right, but let them fry in a frying pan," she continued.

Miss Dahl said some of the world's beautiful women get along with a minimum of sunlight. A lot of proof she mentions such as Lily White, skins as those of Grace Kelly, but I like to mix two or three kinds together to save time. Try writing in It is wonderful when Mae West's brisnet (which is practically all cooked with other meats and so meat, not much fat. IF you get tender. I do not suggest that you cook any of these meats without the right cut! and ribeye, with boiling beef or chuck. This is a wrinkle.

When all the meat is browned, pour two cups of strong tea over flavor the beef (and gals, I use instant tea, no mess no bother and it's ready in an instant), put the lid on and let it simmer for four hours. Sometimes it only takes four hours. Depends on what you want.

HINTS FROM Heloise

BY HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Budgeteers,

And isn't that what we are? Exactly?

I have been experimenting for months with cheap cuts of beef and feel that I have found an answer to my problem—how to use cheap cuts of beef and make 'em taste like more expensive cuts and still have taste, tenderness and umph!

Here's the answer—use tea! Tea seems to tenderize cheap cuts of beef. I have no idea why, but after cooking chuck, boiling salt and fresh pepper. Let cook beef and brisket (say, I even mix-another 20 minutes AFTER this ed rib eye, which is ever so cheap so the flavor of the salt can flavor the beef and it's great! I have decided that the gravy and get into the meat.

Now, if you are lazy and tired and pressed for time like me, as I test this by sticking an ice pick in to burn and I don't know how tough, your lid is on that favorite pot you use!

The additions of water will not change the taste of the beef at all. At the end of the testing period, I test this by sticking an ice pick in to burn and I don't know how tough, your lid is on that favorite pot you use!

Opening lead: King of ♠

A distributional freak worked out to declarer's advantage in today's hand, but he had to retain his composure and employ his best wit to derive full advantage of the situation which nature had prepared for him.
South opened the bidding with one heart and West overcalled with two clubs. North chose not to enter the proceedings on a queen high holding. East had the equivalent of a sound opening bid himself, and he jumped to three spades in order to force a further call from his partner. South employed the favorable vulnerability situation to compete further with a bid of four diamonds. North gave a reluctant preference to four hearts, and East's double closed the auction.
West opened the king of clubs and, in an effort to avoid making a play for the declarer, he continued with the ace. South, being out of clubs, was in position to trump the second lead and he was about to detach a heart from his hand, when he paused to reflect. West's failure to lead a spade at either his first or second opportunity was most unusual. The only logical conclusion which declarer could reach was that his opponent held no spades.
If this were indeed the case, then South could induce West to come forth with a more favorable return on the next round merely by permitting his opponent to remain on lead. Accordingly, declarer discarded his small spade on the ace of clubs, and West was greatly stymied. If he shifted to either red suit, it would expose one of his partner's kings to a fatal finesse. He actually chose to play a third round of clubs placing declarer in the dummy.
The queen of hearts was put through and it held the trick. A diamond finesse was successfully taken next and then the ace of diamonds was cashed. A small diamond was ruffed with the ten of hearts and overruffed by East's king, but this was the last defensive trick. In all, declarer lost two clubs and one heart.

Schooling Costs Top $18 Billion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — This year, as in the past, local year public school costs are estimated to hit over $18 billion for all purposes—operating expenses, construction and interest on school debts.

The National Education Association said the estimate marks an increase of 7.7 per cent over the previous year's estimate.

The average annual hike in the cost of public schooling has been 30.95 per cent nationwide. It jumped up to 13 per cent in the 1957-58 school year, the year after the area are invited to attend and Russians sent up Sputnik I, with the consequent increased interest in schools and increased expenditures.

Final Election Results Expected By 10 Tuesday

The combination of a light vote and electric volts is expected to bring lightning-fast results Tuesday of the outcome of the primary election, and election officials predicted that all votes will be tabulated by 10 p.m.

Election Supervisor Virginia Goodsell said that all the voting machines are ready for voters who will cast their ballots from 7 a.m. at 7 p.m. in one of 87 precincts and that the IBM machines which will tabulate the results are set for the count.

Mrs. Goodsell said that all results should be tabulated and announced no later than 10 p.m. Tuesday. County Clerk Harriet Beals indicated that final results may be known as early as 8:30 p.m.

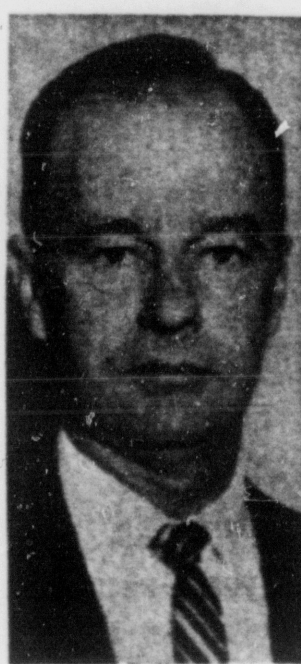

The predictions of the election officials were made at a press conference held Thursday to inform reporters of the procedure to follow in covering the election.

Mrs. Goodsell said that there are approximately 25,000 voters registered as Independents, compared to 15,000 registered Republicans and 11,000 Democrats.

Voters who are registered as Independents must select either the Republican or Democratic ballot Tuesday to vote in the primary. Mrs. Goodsell said that they are then registered with the party whose ballot they select until they notify the election department of a change of affiliation.

A voting machine at the County Office Building has been used to date by 35 residents who will be out-of-town Tuesday. An additional 120 absentee ballots have been mailed in the county for the primary. These ballots must be returned to the election department by 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Absentee voters may still use the voting machine at the County Office Building from 8 a.m. to noon Saturday.

WILLIAM A. FERGUSON

Colorado College Names Assistant On Admissions

William A. Ferguson has been named assistant director of admission at Colorado College.

Ferguson undertook his new duties at the independent college of arts and sciences on Sept. 1.

A native of Philadelphia, the new admission officer holds a master of arts degree from the University of Colorado in counseling and guidance.

He earned his bachelor of arts degree in education at the University of Maryland.

Ferguson, who has been percussion section leader with the Air Force Academy Band for the past seven years, returned from the Air Force this year. He previously was with the Air Force Band in Washington, D. C.

The college's new admission officer is a member of the American Personnel and Guidance Association and the National Vocational Guidance Association.

Johnson Favors Tax Revision To Help Business

Robert W. Johnson, Republican candidate for state senator, told a voter's gathering in Colorado Springs Thursday night that a revision in the tax picture at the state level was essential for a healthier business climate, and especially if new industry is to be attracted to Colorado.

In addition to a 20 per cent state income tax reduction, he said that cuts should also be made in corporation and inventory taxes.

Johnson said if these can be achieved, it would be necessary to make comparable reductions in state spending.

He said the tax cuts and less spending at the state level would be beneficial to business and taxpayers alike. Johnson said cuts in state payroll would not have a serious effect.

Johnson said the tax reductions would be a great help to Colorado's new industry not only in El Paso.

Reducing government expenditures and less taxes has been one of Johnson's main platform planks during his primary campaign against L. T. Skiffington.

He has also pledged to "stimulate Colorado's tourist industry and improve Colorado's primary and secondary highways and highway safety."

The Colorado Springs attorney has been a member of the City Council since 1957 and vice mayor of the city since 1959.

Two Homes Here Are Burglarized

Police this morning were investigating two burglaries that occurred in the city Thursday.

Daniel N. Duran, 208 N. 15th St., told authorities that his house was entered and ransacked while he and his family were absent between 6:45 and 10:30 p.m.

Police said entry to the house was made thru the bathroom window at the rear of the building. Numerous burned matches were found on the floor. Letters and personal papers were strewn on the bed, but nothing of value was missing, Duran reported.

Detectives Robert Murphy and Lewis Heinz said that Mrs. Marjorie Callentine, 1017 E. Uintah St., reported that her home was entered and ransacked between 2:30 and 11:30 p.m.

The detectives said that a number of drawers in the Callentine house was ransacked and a small quantity of food taken from the refrigerator and eaten.

Unattended Car Knocks Down Shrubs and Fence

Police reported today that an unattended car rolled down a steep grade in the 2600 block of Chelton Road Wednesday afternoon and knocked down shrubs and eight feet of wooden fence at nearby residences.

Police Officer Roy Stanley identified the owner of the car as Marilyn Gail Jones, 2605 Chelton Rd.

Stanley said that Mrs. Jones told him she parked her car in the driveway of her home and set the hand brake without putting the car in gear.

The damaged shrubs are located at the residence of Bud Tustler, 2610 Chelton Rd., and the fence is the property of Robert K. Potter, 2604 Chelton Rd.

The cost of repair to the damaged properties was not listed in the police report.

Education Program Set To Cut Losses at Projects

Construction Industry Council board members have agreed to start on education campaign in an effort to cut down on vandalism and thefts at construction sites in the Pikes Peak Region.

Such a campaign will be conducted thru and, it is hoped, with the assistance of the various news media in the area, according to Ed R. Nelson and Simon Halie, two of the board members.

The board met earlier this week to discuss the problem.

Nelson was acting chairman at the meeting in the absence of L. V. Mayfield, council president.

The subject of vandalism and thefts was discussed at length with most members agreeing that the laws and the penalties in these cases should be publicized.

For one thing they said this would make the parents more aware of their legal responsibilities in connection with what their children do, and the consequences involved.

At a similar meeting Aug. 6, it was reported that contractors had lost hundreds of dollars in recent months because of vandalism and thefts at construction sites.

"And the problem is getting worse," Halie told the board Monday night. "Thefts, vandalism and sabotage of equipment is now higher than it has been in years."

Halie told the group that Douglas Jardine had offered the council $150 to start the educational campaign. Contractor Harry Zaring said he would add another $100. Additional contributions are expected.

The board discussed but vetoed a suggestion that reward posters be put up at all construction sites. It was felt that such signs might be taken as a "dare" by those inclined toward vandalism.

Several members felt warnings such as "no trespassing" signs posted at all construction sites might do the job.

"Let's quote the laws and penalties involved in all these types of cases," Nelson said. He added this would have a more telling effect on parents and youngsters than probably anything else.

Some board members said that judges and juvenile authorities should mete out more effective type penalties. One such penalty mentioned was to have a youngster "work out" the damage caused in an act of vandalism.

Most of those present agreed that insurance to cover all the acts would be too costly and prohibitive.

But all were agreed that something should be done — and soon — to stem the increasing tide of vandalism and thefting. The educational campaign was considered the best approach.

At the Aug. 6 meeting, the council had invited Colorado Springs Police Chief Cecil J. McKissick, County Undersheriff H. Don Smith and County Judge Charles Simon. All three agreed to work with the council on the problem.

"It is a pleasure to align myself with former Govs. Dan Thornton and John Vivian and with former lieutenant governors and other prominent Republicans in recommending the election of the man whom we know is not only the best qualified candidate for governor, he said, "but also the one who has the prestige and statewide acquaintance needed to defeat the incumbent Democratic governor."

Higby served two terms as lieutenant governor, from 1943 to 1947. He was speaker of the House in the 1959 session.

"His experience as a businessman, rancher, taxpayer and state office holder convinces me that we need a man with Dave Hamill's knowledge and experience to be governor. Dave can operate the state government efficiently and he can and will reduce the tax burden on our state."

"Industry and business will come into Colorado as a result of a realistic Hamill tax program. This will create more jobs for labor and a sounder economy for Colorado. The state of Colorado is in a critical position and it needs Dave's free enterprise philosophy in the governor's chair."

Woman Accosted By Man in Crawl Way Under House

Mrs. Margaret Louise McCarty, 48, of 610 Huron Rd., reported to police that she was attacked by an unknown man while she was in a crawl way beneath her house at 10:30 p.m. Thursday.

Police Officers Werner Finstrom and Donald Watts said that Mrs. McCarty told them she had entered the crawl way to get a suitcase and while she was bending over she heard a thump behind her.

She said she turned around and saw an unknown man kneeling down at the entrance of the crawl way with his arms outstretched and his fingers extended.

"I hollered who was there, but there was no answer," she said. "The man then came toward me and grabbed me by the leg. I beat him off with the suitcase and was able to run in the house and close the door."

Police said that Mrs. McCarty told them the man followed her to the door and pushed it open after knocking on the panels. She was able to close the door and lock it before calling police, authorities said.

Finstrom and Watts said Mrs. McCarty was unable to furnish a description of the attacker other than the fact he was wearing a corduroy jacket.

Carson Soldiers Search Second Day for McKee

For the second day Ft. Carson, assisted in the search for Pvt. Fred H. McKee Jr. absent without leave from Ft. Campbell, Ky., and hidden in the mountains west of Denver.

First Lt. Robert Fahringer took 20 men from the 19th Military Police Company at 5 a.m. Thursday to join the search being directed by Clear Creek County Sheriff Harold Brumbaugh.

The sheriff began the search Tuesday after campers reported that the man waved a rifle at them in the mountains near Empire, Colo.

A deputy sheriff who found McKee's campsite reported that McKee pointed his rifle at him and shouted "You won't take me alive!" before running into heavy timber.

The AWOL man's father, Fred H. McKee Sr. of Willets, Calif., arrived at Clear Creek County Tuesday and told Brumbaugh that his son had been missing from Fort Campbell for about four months, the Rocky Mountain News reported.

A plane from the 5th Aviation Battalion at Carson took part in an aerial search for McKee on Wednesday without success.

Colorado College Begins 89th Year Of Class Work

The most cosmopolitan freshman class in the history of Colorado College got its first real taste of college life today as the 89th year of classes began.

The incoming class boasts the highest scholastic achievement ever recorded at the independent college of arts and sciences, according to Admission Director Richard E. Wood.

He said the number of freshmen in the top quarter of their high school graduating classes is 5 per cent higher this year than last.

The 371 freshmen and 53 transfer students come to Colorado College from 39 states and 16 foreign countries.

At the same time, 35 per cent of the new students are from Colorado. This shows a marked increase in those from Colorado. Last year 30 per cent of the freshmen were from Colorado.

The fact that the new class has a higher percentage of Coloradans and at the same time is more cosmopolitan was attributed to the increase in the size of the class. The college was able to accept only 300 freshmen last year compared to this year's class of 371.

Colorado College opens the school year with a faculty of 112. This is an increase of six over the number of teachers at this time last year.

H. Edwin Mathias, associate dean of the college and director of student aid and placement, said more than 100 of the incoming freshmen have been awarded scholarships. About 65 per cent of these scholarship recipients are from Colorado, he said.

The new academic year got under way formally Sunday with New Student Week activities. President Louis T. Benetzer addressed an assembly of new students and their parents in Shove Chapel Sunday evening. A reception, given by President and Mrs. Benetzer, followed in Rastall Center.

On Monday and Tuesday the new students took placement tests, physical examinations, talked with Dean of Men Juan Reid and Dean of Women Christine Moon, and consulted with their faculty advisors. Registration followed on Wednesday and Thursday.

Classes at Colorado College got under way well ahead of dates set at most colleges and universities across the nation as the result of a new academic calendar approved by the faculty last spring.

The new calendar will bring the fall semester to a close on Dec. 19, providing a month-long winter vacation, rather than the traditional two shorter periods.

Under the old calendar students went home for Christmas vacations and returned to the campus for a two-week session before final examinations. Following examinations, they had another week before the opening of the second semester.

Under the new schedule, second semester classes will not get under way until Jan. 21. However, students will return to the campus for registration Jan. 11 and 12. This provides an opportunity to participate fully in Symposium Week activities Jan. 14-19.

The committee system and system of seniority is most important, he said, in explaining the set-up of the Senate.

"I have built up a lot of seniority in the finance, education, and health and welfare committees as well as in the legislative council that studies bills between sessions of the legislature. I have been honored by both parties in being selected to these committees."

"A man must first prove himself in the Senate. The other Senators are all men of long years of political experience and size up the other men as to his background and legislative experience; his ability to stand on his own rights and fight for what he thinks is right."

"Sometimes your particular bill is not popular but if you stick to your guns you will gain more stature than by pussy footing or flitting from one position to another. Both parties will have more respect for you if you state frankly your feelings on all bills."

"If a new man comes to the Senate who has neither the years nor the experience, the senior members can often give him a very difficult time by keeping him from any important posts."

"Like Lincoln when he was in the House of Representatives in Illinois, he spent four years without saying a word. We of El Paso County can't wait four years."

"The Senate is a tradition-bound institution that resents untried or unproven attempts at legislation."

Clothing Worth $125 Stolen From Car

Joseph Oteri of Ft. Carson, reported to the sheriff's office this morning that a quantity of clothing worth $125 had been stolen from his car which was parked outside the Caravan night club, 2311 E. Platte Ave.

Deputy Sheriffs Al Moore and Bob Snuggs said the vehicle was locked and that the left front door glass had been broken. Three army uniforms and a tuxedo were taken.

Adjusters Take No Action On Branden Apartments

The City Board of Adjustment would construct instead two apartment buildings containing 9 three-bedroom units each. These buildings of Denver to construct two 10-unit apartment buildings in the 3400 block of West Pikes Peak Avenue.

The firm had sought a variance to permit the construction of apartment buildings containing 10 two-bedroom units.

However, several neighborhood residents appeared at Thursday's meeting to oppose the variance, contending it would create excessive occupancies and constitute a nuisance.

When the board voted to table action until architectural plans were completed, the Branden representative said the firm

The request was made by Mrs. Ann K. Doss, who operates the Play School Day Nursery, 1219 Glen Ave., and a nursery school. It also approved the moving of a garage to within 19 feet of the front line of the house instead of the required 35 feet.

The board tabled a request by Norco Coin-Op Cleaning and Laundry for a variance to erect a 6-foot global sign on top of the building at 1538 N. Circle Dr. A sign committee composed of members of the Board of Adjustment and City Planning Commission is expected to recommend changes in the sign code to the City Council in the near future.

No action was taken on a request by Robert M. Wing for a variance to build an addition on the rear of a dwelling at 701 E. Boulder St. for a television repair shop connected by a laundry room. The board told the applicant he would need a zone change to the R-5 zone, together with a conditional use in order to construct the shop.

The board recommended to the Planning Commission that land owned by Pikes Peak Greenhouses Inc. in the 500 block of East Columbia Street be rezoned from the R-3 zone to conform with the present use of the property.

The firm had requested a variance to construct greenhouses at 538 1/2 E. Columbia St.

The board approved the following requests:

James A. Mather for variance to build a carport on the south side of the dwelling at 2412 Sturgis Rd. which would be on the property line on the southwest corner.

C. W. Davis for variance to build a dwelling on the lot at 408 E. Washington St. which would have a 12-foot rear yard on the south and a 17-foot rear yard on the east instead of the required 25-foot setback for a garage. The lot has 5,000 square feet instead of the required 6,000 square feet.

Cannell Nursery for variance to build a 19-by-23-foot addition to the greenhouse at 1332 N. Walnut St. which presently is a non-conforming use.

Six Graduated As X-Ray Students At Penrose

The graduating class of X-ray students at Penrose Hospital received their certificates Thursday from Sr. Cyril, administrator.

In a brief ceremony in the administrator's office, the following students were presented their certificates of graduation: Vangie Burgess, Colorado Springs; Flora Cleveland, Plainview, Tex.; Don Goodman, Colorado Springs; Gordon Harms, Jetmore, Kan.; Joan Jacobson, Colorado Springs; Steve Rockwell, Colorado Springs.

This was the 13th class to graduate from the course since its inception in 1948.

Joan Jacobson, was graduated with a final average of 92.1 per cent for the two years training period and Don Goodman with a final average of 92 per cent.

Other averages range between 81 per cent and 89.4 per cent. The school recently received commendation for the high averages received by its graduates in the National Registry Examination. In 1961 all graduates received grades above 85 per cent in the National Examination for Registration.

County Farm Area Mapped in Event Land Is Sold

Charles L. Smith, chairman of the El Paso County Board of Commissioners, said today that an engineer is currently mapping the County Farm land to provide a legal description in the event portions of the land will be sold by the county at a public auction.

An unconfirmed report Wednesday was that the commissioners had received an offer of $3,000 per acre for the County Farm property.

Smith said "there was some talk about this but we have not yet appraised the land so we are not yet ready to put it up for sale."

The commissioners created a Public Works Fund in June whereby money realized from the sale of unused county property will be used to finance the remodeling or rebuilding of the court house, jail and road department garage.

The county owns scattered unused parcels of land including a portion of the County Farm, the old detention home and the site on which it stands and several tracts of land along county highways.

Smith said the commissioners are awaiting appraisals on the various pieces of property and after receiving them, will determine which pieces to sell at public auction.

Matters were not improved when Center John Patterson, 176-pound, a recent epidemic of stomach flu returning starter, has definitely ruled out of the game. The Pirates regular during the week. Unfortunately for the Pirates, when the St. Mary's Indians moved a couple of replacements for him in Rick Seaman, the dark horse of the team, the Indians looked 240-pound and ready to go. Cowboys Pick To Win Flag In New Loop

By DANIEL P. DOHERTY

LARAMIE, Wyo. (UPI) — The experts have said this is to be a year of firsts for Wyoming's Cowboys, pre-season favorites to pick up the marbles in the first year of the new Western Athletic Conference.

First, though, the Cowboys are going to have to come up with a quarterback able to fill the opening left by Chuck Lamson if their offensive power can be realized in this, their first season with a balanced-line attack under new head coach Lloyd Eaton.

"We have some fine boys at quarterback," says Eaton, who took over from his old boss, Bob Devaney, when the latter scooped off to Nebraska of the Big Eight.

Eaton isn't fooling. In Mike Wright he has a fine passer. In Jeff Hartman he has a snappy runner. Allen Frude is small, but with experience could be first rate. And Tom Wilkinson has the big play knack.

Pre-season drills opened with junior letterman Jim Hill holding down the slot. Hill earned his letter as a defensive safetyman a year ago, but he runs hard and is better than average at passing.

Whoever ends up calling the signal is going to have no end of help. With the exception of the center's slot, Wyoming has depth, experience and balance to spare. Twenty-two of 39 lettermen from last year's Skyline Conference championship team are back.

The always crunching ground game will be spearheaded by an experienced line strong at ends, tackles and guards. Five lettermen ends are back, both tackle slots are too deep in lettermen and guard will be stronger than in year ago with three lettermen, led by Bill Levine, on hand.

At center, the problem may be solved by the return of Vince Zimmer from active duty with the National Guard. But depth here could be a problem. Transfer Jerry Allen, a former guard from Boise Junior College in Idaho, will be in the running with yearlings Halback Rusty Henniger, the Dick Barry and Ken Spores.

Passing was not the long suit of the departed Lamson, and even Cowboy publicist Bill Young is saying the Pikes aerial game should be improved this year.

Eaton is turning, too, toward more speed in the traditional Wyoming game. That's the reason for switching from an unbalanced line to a balanced one—to give more versatility to the attack.

"Our incoming freshman candidates have been picked for speed," says Eaton. "We are stepping into a tougher conference. Any of our people who have followed the games know of the tremendous speed Arizona and other teams we play possess."

As for being picked to finish on top the new, tougher conference, Eaton isn't too upset. Wyoming teams, to begin with, are accustomed to being touted.

Secondly, as he pointed out recently, the publicity helps recruit for the Cowboy squad. He says the race, though, could well be a four-way affair—Wyoming, Arizona, Utah and New Mexico.

Realistically, though, Eaton adds the players and staff have again no "wrong illusions about how the season is going to be."

Coach Bob Phelps and his Manitou Springs Mustangs are looking for trouble again this fall and at Billings, Mont., against the University of Montana. Phelps' test for Eaton's squad will be undersized but combative linemen against Brigham Young in the will do their best against Thornton Nov. 17 season's windup at Provo, Utah.

Scheduling favors the Cowboys this year. Their strongest conference foes, Arizona and Utah, will then face the two touchdowns for Thornton in turf of War Memorial Stadium that game and passed for another here. So will New Mexico. Phelps' test for Eaton's squad will be undersized but combative linemen against Brigham Young in the will do their best against Thornton Nov. 17 season's windup at Provo, Utah.

Point Racing to Wind Up At Sportsman's Raceway

This Saturday night will mark scheduled for 7 p.m. and the last of the season's weekly races to follow immediately. racing for points at Sportsman's Dale Reick of Pueblo and Clark Park, Raceway, east of Colorado. Presently leading the late the most points during the Class A drivers is Enlewood's past weekend to capture the final. Lehmman with 850 points, with night of races at Sportsman Park. Reick, who amassed 51 points during the three-day program, finished a strong second in Monday night's Main Event ahead of Pueblo's Lou Willschup to sew up the championship.

In the Class B division, Ray Back is now on top with 460 points, followed by Kenny Shigeta of Pueblo with 370.

Also scheduled this Saturday as an added attraction will be the women Powder Puff drivers, who will not only add to the program, but will also be a source of more cars to be driven in the regular events. Time trials are second place Reick and Willschup.

Arthur Joins Feature Field For Tonight

There will be a new greyhound at Rocky Mountain Kennel Club tonight in the 10th and feature race of the 11-race card.

Arthur, from the Leo F. Harmon Kennel, shows three performance lines from Pueblo's Park and a schooling line here last Monday night. In his RMKC schooling line, he ran on the outside and finished second with a time of 31.45. His three times in Pueblo are shown to be 31.27, 31.40 and 31.46.

Tonight and Monday will both feature 11 races on the program with all races except the fourth and seventh being run over the 5-1/2 mile.

Nearly 2,000 fans Thursday night saw Joe Mamino's Amperex, a greyhound pup doing his first official racing this season, win the ninth and feature race. Amperex promises to be starting on an outstanding racing career.

With a record of six starts four wins and a place and show honor each, Amperex, owned by the RMKC, in 31 seconds flat, the second fastest track time of the current season and just 16 seconds short of the track record.

Latin Americans Asked to Confer About Castro

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said today Secretary Dean Rusk has suggested to the Latin-American countries that the American foreign ministers meet informally on the Cuban question while attending the forthcoming U.N. session.

Confirmation of unofficial reports that such a meeting was proposed came as a Democrat and a Republican appealed in the Senate for concerted action by the Organization of American States to meet the threat of a Communist military beachhead in Cuba.

Rusk briefed ambassadors from Latin-American countries earlier on the situation resulting from new Soviet military shipments to Cuba.

The U.N. General Assembly meets in New York Sept. 18, and Rusk has tentative plans to attend during the first week.

VOLUNTEERS
MANILA (AP)—Sixty U.S. Peace Corps volunteers arrived today to work in rural Philippine schools. They brought the total of peace corps members in the Philippines to 331.

Market Closes Higher After Late Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed higher today on a late rally.

Prices were near their best levels of the session at the close and the trading pace was more active than earlier.

The market had experienced a sinking spell around mid-day Friday.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3.3 million shares compared with 3.05 million Wednesday.

The late improvement came at about the time the Senate approved the administration's tax revision bill.

One provision of the proposal would permit business men to reduce tax payments by as much as 7 percent of the cost of new equipment.

Meanwhile, the Federal Reserve Board reported that August department store sales dipped but July but that the drop was not as great as had been anticipated.

The list was mixed at the start with most changes extremely narrow.

Pennsylvania Railroad and New York Central Railroad turned more active and erased early losses.

Central was ahead about 1 and Pennsylvania about half that.

IBM gained around 4 1/2 and Polaroid was up close to 3. Texas Instruments was ahead almost 5 and Xerox and Du Pont gained around 2 each.

Homestake Mining was strong among the metals, holding an advance of about 1 1/2. Kennecott was off about 1.

Motors showed a slightly higher tendency with Chrysler, American Motors and GM moving up fractions.

Ford pared an early loss of more than 1.

Steels showed little change. U.S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin added minimum fractions.

Union Carbide, lower at the opening, was still off more than 1.

A few of the oils including Royal Dutch and Standard Indiana inched ahead.

Plus signs among the utilities included AT&T and Consolidated Edison.

Corporate bonds moved a shade higher but government issues drifted lower in moderately active trading.

Jobless Figures In August Puzzle Statisticians

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) —

The big job used to be collecting statistics about people. Today it's making the statistics fit the people.

They keep on doing things their own way even when the figures have indicated a different trend under way. And often people wonder why the statistics seem to be contrary to their experience.

Statisticians by the hundreds are gathering here today to run their profession through the human computers of their own minds. They are studying how to improve the gathering and interpretation of statistics—all the way from stock market trends to unemployment totals.

And the 122nd annual meeting of the American Statistical Association is taking sidetrips into the fields of getting people to understand statistics—and, especially to stop jumping to conclusions.

The confusion this week over the government's statistics on jobs and the jobless is a case in point.

Employment in August hit a record high. The total of the jobless dropped. And yet the percentage of the labor force out of work rose.

Some say it's all because of women. Others say the season's seem to be getting out of kilter. Some think the percentage rise in the unemployment rate is all because of the big crop of babies in the war years.

The women are credited with the smaller than expected drop in unemployment in August because up to 100,000 were counted as jobless when they were really just waiting to take their first jobs as teachers or new jobs in that profession. This month they switch from the unemployed to the employed side of the ledger.

But this August the labor force got bigger than expected, not only because of the women biding their time but perhaps because all those war babies are growing up and job hunting.

The seasons are viewed askance because they seem to be coming earlier each year. Statisticians take the seasons into account and adjust their figures to fit what they think the seasonal pattern is or should be. Thus, in June they make allowance for the hordes of students and teachers looking for summer jobs, and therefore technically unemployed. In August the statisticians figure those who did not find jobs got tired of looking and dropped out of the labor force. So unemployment totals should drop.

Seasonal changes also are blamed on the auto industry this year. When the August figures were taken most auto production lines were down for model changeover, and the laid-off workers were listed as unemployed. This month most of them should be back on the job.

Detroit keeps changing its model changeover period from year to year and this is very trying to statisticians striving to adjust in previously agreed upon seasonal patterns.

Grain Market

CHICAGO (AP) — After an irregular start, the grain futures showed more of firmness than weakness most of the time today in rather quiet activity on the Board of Trade.

Brokers said there appeared to be a little improvement in commercial support which probably discouraged further short selling and liquidation. A private crop report, issued after the close of Wednesday's trading, also was believed to have imparted a little firmness to corn and soybeans.

Estimated carlot receipts were wheat 2 cars, corn 150, oats 10, rye none, barley 2 and soybeans 9.

Friend Becomes Sole Owner of Ajax Furniture

Claude Friend has become sole owner of Ajax Furniture Store, 120 S. Tejon St. by buying out his partner of seven years, David Bram.

Friend was sole owner of the store in 1955 but the next year Bram joined in as a partner. Prior to 1955 Friend was a serviceman for Jordan Appliances where he was employed for nine years.

Before this he served in the U.S. Army from 1949 until 1945. He was awarded the Purple Heart for injuries suffered in Germany while assigned to the Second Infantry Division.

Friend is married to the former Miss Frances Deek of Akron, Ohio, and the couple have four daughters ranging in age from 14 to 6 years. They live at Woodburn Ave.

The family holds membership at Calvary Baptist Church. Friend is an active member of the SWAP, Salem With A Purpose Club.

Friend said he has no immediate plans for any changes at Ajax and will retain the same personnel and carry the same lines of merchandise as before.

"We hope to continue to try to bring the people of Colorado Springs the best possible buys and service," he said. "Our business practice and policy is to treat the customer as we would like to be treated if we were on the other side of the fence."

Friend was born near Denver but has spent most of his years in Colorado Springs. He and his family recently returned from a five-week trip thru the northwest which included the World's Fair at Seattle and Disneyland in Anaheim, Calif.

"This is still the jewel of the nation," he said.

Razor-Thin Upside Edge Retained in Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market buying yesterday which pro-market retained a razor thin upside edge early this afternoon in moderate trading.

Prices moved up at the opening but gradually receded. By mid-past that showed manufacturers day the margin of gainers over losers had shrunk to a minimum.

Many of the higher priced issues went through some of the same gyrations they experienced earlier this week. Polaroid and IBM were up a point and off a dip.

The remaining plus signs were mostly fractional. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 4 at 223 with industrials ahead 9.

The higher opening, first of the week was a carryover from the previous day's improvement.

Among the oils, Royal Dutch, Texaco, Standard, New Jersey and Champlin gained fractions.

The rails, which helped yesterday's late improvement, showed only small changes. New York Central was up a minimum fraction.

A resume of their proposed merger suggesting even higher savings than the roads anticipated, was credited for some of yesterday's activity in these issues.

Eastman Kodak and Union Carbide were higher by about 1/2.

Among the higher priced issues, IBM was unchanged. Polaroid, Texas Instruments and Beckman Instruments off less than 1/2.

Container Corp. added a fraction after a block of 25,000 shares changed hands.

Martin Marietta, of the aerospace leaders of recent weeks, was off a bit after a 50,000 share block crossed the tape.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange continued mixed with most changes limited. Glenmore Distillers added more than 1 as did Pyle National Dynamics Corp. of America was active and up around 1/2. Off fractions were General Gas, Calgary & Edmonton, Louisiana Land and Occidental Petroleum.

Looking At Hollywood

By HEDDA HOPPER
© 1962 By the Chicago Tribune

BOB HORTON HAS BUSY SUMMER DOING STOCK

Hollywood—Bob Horton is positive that hard work pays. He shook that Wagon Train dust off his feet and has spent the summer doing stock from Atlanta to Chicago. He starred in "Pajama Game" and toured in "Oklahoma." Despite Red Skelton's appearance at the Ohio state fair, the theater in Columbus sold out for Bob's show. Gardner McKay was to follow in "Picnic," but since he's still missing, Horton stays on to do that part. Gower Champion flew to Columbus on Sunday to see him perform. Gower says the magic of performers takes place on stage, and that's why he wants to see Bob in person. He's up for the leading role in the new Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, which Gower is content to stay home. "I don't have the urge to work any more. If I were wasting away to a shadow, I might go back. But obviously I don't need it. I can't tell you how much fun I have being with the children."

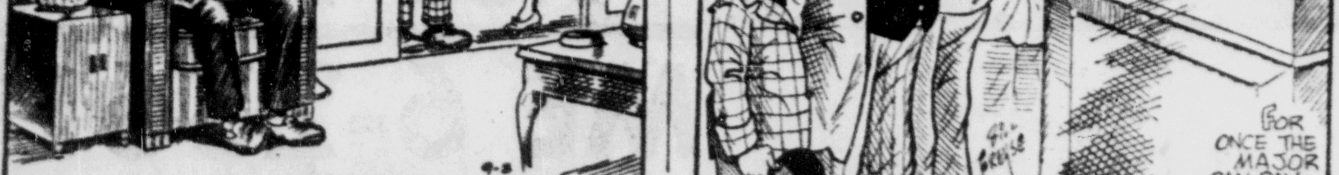

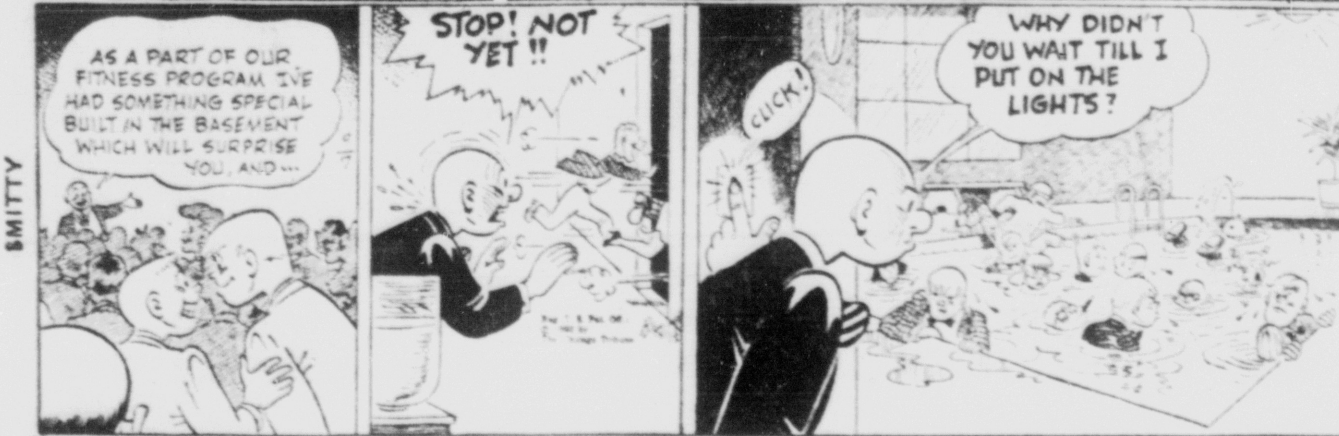

Howard Keel called from Baltimore to say he hadn't played to an empty seat during his "Kismet" tour of the east, and they all went home for the "Kiss Me Kate" in San Diego. Then I suppose he'll retire for the winter and live off all the money he's made. Mrs. Michael Chekhov, Marilyn Monroe's first coach, whom she remembered in her will, invited the star for Thanksgiving dinner last year and tells me "Marilyn arrived with two bottles of champagne, was gay, beautiful. We had dinner with my tenant and her two sons. They were photographed with her and were so excited dining with her. Afterwards we went back to my apartment and played a record. Mr. Chekhov made, called 'Love in Our Profession.' He was ill for a year before his death, so a member of his school brought a tape recorder and he recorded his weekly lectures. There are 12 tapes. Charles Leonard is using them in a new book about Chekhov, which Harpers will publish. Marilyn was so moved by the one on 'Love,' she asked to hear it again."

Walter Mathau, here finishing a picture, signed to do Irwin Shaw's new play, "Children From Their Games" on Broadway. I asked why he didn't stick around and pick up some more movie money. "I'm like the doctor who prefers to work in the lab, but has to go on the road and sell a few pills every now and then to pay the rent. I like to feel the audience. That's why I like movie crews. When you finish a scene and they make lots of noise, it's wonderful." I once had the impudence to suggest that Walter have his nose bled. When I watched him steal "Once More With Feeling" from Joe Cotten, I went backstage to congratulate him. Walter looked over the heads of his fans and shouted, "You still think I should have my nose fixed?" I told him to shut up, that as far as I was concerned he didn't need to change anything. He missed out on repeating that part on the screen. "The producer said I was wrong for it. That was the day after I'd won the New York drama critics award for the role." Mathau and his wife, actress-writer Carol Grace, expect their first child in December.

Tool Tactics Are Miserable, Contender Says

DENVER (UPI)—Conrad McBride, a University of Colorado professor, told an Arapahoe County group Tool had instructed Republicans to put "the Big Question" to Democratic candidates. Sen. John Carroll, Rep. Bryon Rogers and Wayne Aspinall, McBride and Albert Tomcik.

The question, McBride said, was "whether the Democrats stood on a series of specific questions relating to recognition of Red China, admission of Red China to the United Nations, Red China's claim to Formosa and the

McBride said Tool was making a "somewhat anemic and pathetic attempt to associate all of the Democratic candidates... with some of the less popular views of the liberal papers."

Phone Man Ordered To Donate Blood

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—Telephone company employee Terry Turner was installing an extension phone in offices of the Red Cross blood bank Wednesday when a nurse ordered him to remove his coat.

Though surprised, he obliged and followed instructions to roll up his sleeve and lie on a bed. Turner soon was short one pint of blood.

The director of the blood bank, George Cleveland, later remarked, "well, we really were short of blood."

Science Pays Attention To Middle Age Group

By LOUIS DEWOLF
NEW YORK (NEA)—Are you amused at being called "sir" by small study cells in such places as young fellows of eighteen? Do you as New Canaan, Conn., Peilham, no longer tuck your pajama coat inside the trousers?

Do you freely point the stem of your pipe at an opponent without a word? Do you use the phrase, "I'm not as young as I was" playfully and without conviction? Have you an increasing tendency to class people as "sound" or "unsound"?

Do you have a tendency to look closely at the crown of your head when you face a mirror, find yourself saying that manners, sumptuous, new potatoes, automobiles were better in the old days? Are you instinctively pleased at seeing somebody your own age only to males since females rarely described in print as "comparatively young man"—and later, "astute" that you were pleased?

Have you taken up using a walk-stick to point with? Are you upon which so much emphasis is now indifferent as to whether you placed. Only those in this business have said the same thing to the and most harassed of brackets find time and energy to manage same person.

Photos Show Pilots Asleep At Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL-CIO Fight Engineers' Interna- tional Association delivered to the Federal Aviation Agency today 40 photographs which, the union said, showed airline pilots asleep at their controls, or reading while in flight.

Airline officials challenged the authenticity of the pictures, one of which showed a stewardess alone at the controls of the plane.

Ron Brown, flight union president, said he gave the pictures to the FAA in response to an official demand for them.

A spokesman said the pho- tographs were taken over a two- year period in cockpits of Eastern Air Lines planes in scheduled pas- senger operations. A union strike against Eastern is continuing.

A spokesman for Eastern said individuals had been trying to ped- dle the pictures around to papers in New York for the past two months.

He said Eastern had not seen the pictures, but had investigated and found nothing to indicate that they were authentic or that any pilots or stewardesses had neg- lected either their work or flying rules.

The Eastern spokesman said the airline had concluded that the pictures would have to be posed, and believed that they may have been taken in a simulator—a ground training device.

The union said the films given to FAA showed the cockpit instru- ments giving altitude and speed at the time. He added that at the FAA's request the dates and num- bers of the flights and the names of some of the individuals also were included.

The flight engineers have been in a long running dispute with the Air Line Pilots Association over the makeup of airline crews on jets.

The pilots have contended that flight engineers are unnecessary—that a third pilot could handle en- gineer duties and at the same time provide a backup capability for the captain and copilot.

Prisoners Wanted To 'Test' Sheriff

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Prisoners who rioted in the Bexar County Jail "just wanted to test me—to see what I would do," says Sheriff Bill Hauck.

Hauck, appointed just last month, fired six bullets from his 45 caliber pistol and his deputies turned fire hoses on 130 rioters. That ended the 2½-hour uprising. Some inmates complained to Hauck about a noon meal but after that riot Hauck said they admit- ted there was nothing wrong with the food.

Bodies of Earthquake Victims Given Burial

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The bodies of 7,500 earthquake victims have been buried in 31 devastated mud brick villages, Iran's Red Cross report.

In the 31 villages reported on today 26,618 survivors were reported alive, many of them injured. The number of injured still was not known, but hospitals in Tehran alone were packed with more stricken villages were still 2,500 victims.

Reports from as many as 60 not completed. The staggering burial figure indicated the toll from last Saturday's quake.
